

Hide guide layer on export

After it's hidden your design should look like a rectangle and not a cup sleeve shape.

Keep important text and some images a safe distance from green guide, so they aren't trimmed off during print.

The printer will make their cut within this transparent area. Extending your background, shapes, etc into this area will ensure a white border doesn't occur around the edges of your paper.