by Haley Mosorjak

Hey PA-TSA there is just about only more month till the state conference! The state officer team is so excited to have you at Seven Springs. While preparing for states there is a lot of stress and hard work that goes into all of your events. But be sure that you have all the elements for your projects, and just remember that all of your sleepless nights will be worth it in the end, so you can have a successful and fun experience at the state conference. We wish you all the best of luck and we can't wait to see you!

MANAGING STRESS

by Julia Carrasco

Hey PATSA! With states right around the corner and the final round of college decisions close to coming out, you may be feeling a lot of anxiety or stress about the future that lies ahead. Make sure in these next few weeks to take some time for yourself and try to do something that you genuinely enjoy. Whether it be baking cookies or snuggling up to your favorite TV show, it's important to remember that you have time to do things that make you happy. I hope you all have a wonderful time at states and a successful school year!
