FROM OUR DESK · MARKET PULSE

Risk sentiment stayed defensive into the weekend — the dollar held firm while energy traded heavy. We're watching whether index strength can hold against a softer oil tape; keep position sizes measured and respect the levels marked on each setup inside.

HOW TO USE THIS PAGE

Trading around the pivots

The central pivot P is the day's fulcrum: price trading above P keeps the bias constructive toward R1 / R2, while price below P tilts it defensive toward S1 / S2. Treat these as decision points — areas to watch for reaction or breakout — not as buy/sell signals on their own.

RISK NOTE

Size each idea so a stop beyond the nearest level is a small, fixed share of capital — consistency beats conviction.
