

All Are Architects

♩ = 104    A                    F#m   F#m7   Bm7                    A                    Bm7                    C#m

1. All are ar - chi - tects of fate, work - ing in these
 2. For the struc - ture that we raise time is with ma -
 3. Build to - day, then, strong and sure, with a firm and

4                    F#m   D   E                    F#m   E   A   E   D   A   D

walls of time; some with mas - sive deeds and great,
 - te - rials filled; our to - days and yes - ter - days
 am - ple base; and as - cend - ing and se - cure

7                    C#m                    C#m7   F#                    A   D                    Bm7   Asus   A

some are with or - na - ments of rhyme.
 are shall the blocks with which we build.
 shall to - mor - row find its place.

♫ Words: Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807-1882

♫ Music: Thomas Benjamin, 1940-

Singing the Living Tradition #288

Public Domain and UUA owned, no expiration

WOODLAND

7.7.7.7.