The Messages are to All the World Let's Spread the Word

Are we looking for a way to make conference weekend more impactful? We may want to start by prayerfully asking, "Why am I watching" and "For whom am I watching". We have been promised there will be answers and direction for us and for those we love. Here are some things to consider ...

1. Let's begin with LOVE. As we prepare ourselves to be taught by Prophets and Apostles we might prayerfully consider what specific messages the Lord has for us and those we influence. It is important to exercise faith as we expect our prayers to be answered.

2. Share the blessings of General Conference by inviting others to watch. We may consider family, neighbors, friends and others that the Spirit prompts you to reach out to.

3. Share the meaningful and impactful messages you receive and the testimony you have of Modern Prophets and Apostles with others through ...

- Personal conversation
- Text messages and personal notes

Come and See

Drawing water from the well requires effort. More effort means more water. We can begin to prime the pump by preparing ourselves and others to receive the Word of the Lord.

We live in troubling times. What better way to bring peace into our lives and communities than getting inspired direction from a living Prophet.
