

What do you care about most? After a moment, please write down your thoughts on what is most precious; a list of words describing your passion will suffice. I do not expect that everyone has an entirely written poem.

Some notes to consider:

- Find something you are passionate about, and JUST WRITE!
- Write what you feel. DON'T overthink.
- A list of simple descriptive words is OK.
- HAVE FUN!

All endeavors in life have their challenges, but none has more challenges than that of a creative work such as poetry. No matter what you have when Thursday evening comes around, I will work with everyone in attendance with the intention of you leaving that evening with a poem of your creation or all the tools necessary to bring your story to life later.
