Revenue amounts remained the same midway through the worst of the deficit, a time when inflation was low. From 2003 revenues grew steadily, reaching a peak in 2008 followed by a sharp drop and a rise in inflation.

Expenditures are evenly spread out amongst the sectors. From 1989 to 1998 the country was in deficit. Expenditures were stabilized and increased from 1997 onwards. From 2003 inflation was kept at a minimum and the country's expenditures are ever-growing as the surplus increases.
