To whom it may concern:

While we understand Universities have a range of indirect 'overhead' costs in addition to and as a proportion of the agreed upon costs of the trial, it is the global policy of AB Vista, a division of AB Agri, to pay no more than 20% in indirect costs. There may be certain circumstances where this upper limit will be reviewed, but on a strict exception basis and only where a compelling justification exists (it being understood that this policy must be applied consistently and fairly across all academic research projects).

If your department or grant office has any questions, please have them contact Tiago Santos (AB Vista Innovation Director) on +44 (0) 1672 517 650 or at Tiago.Santos@abvista.com.

Sincerely,
