Clerk of the Board Adrian Bankhead,

Dear East Bay Community Energy Board of Directors,

I urge you to redirect the proposed $15 million dollars of ratepayer funds into local development business plan programs instead of giving it away to UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. While the Children's Hospital is an important institution, it is currently well-funded with over $2 billion in assets and over $500 million in donations this year. The $15 million in East Bay Community Energy (EBCE) electricity customer revenues could be better spent on programs that directly prevent the causes of asthma.

EBCE already has a number of programs in its Local Development Business Plan designed to reduce the use of fossil fuels and the pollution that is a significant trigger of asthma. However, funding for these programs in the proposed 2022-2023 budget is insufficient to support access for low income customers and environmental justice communities. Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities that have the highest asthma rates due to high levels of environmental pollution are not being served.

If the $15 million was added to EBCE's Local Development programs it would go a long way towards addressing environmental justice as well as addressing the historic and systemic environmental inequities suffered by BIPOC communities. In addition, it would move us forward in the just transition to a clean and resilient energy system that EBCE committed to for our East Bay community.

The $15 million gift item was postponed from the budget because of a lack of public transparency. The EBCE website advertises that they are committed to engage in transparent and public processes, and we need this decision to be determined in that way.

EBCE is uniquely qualified to deliver clean energy programs and projects to the community it serves. We urge the Board to use the $15 million to increase equitable access to local clean energy in EBCE's jurisdiction; redirect the proposed UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital donation to fund EBCE's own critical mission.

Thank you for your time,
Allison Ryu

It just makes more sense to donate money to help fight the root of the issue so that these effects are mitigated in the future. Like the proverb "A society grows great when old men plant trees in whose shade they shall never sit."

Clerk of the Board Adrian Bankhead,

Dear East Bay Community Energy Board of Directors,

Please remember your focus and redirect this $15 million toward your existing plans to mitigate childhood asthma by decreasing the use of fossil fuels. Children's Hospital does not need this money as much as do the programs to mitigate asthma.

I urge you to redirect the proposed $15 million dollars of ratepayer funds into local development business plan programs instead of giving it away to UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. We need this to be a completely transparent and public process as it is advertised on EBCE's website.

While the Children's Hospital is an important institution, it is currently well-funded with over $2 billion in assets and over $500 million in donations this year. $15 million in East Bay Community Energy (EBCE) electricity customer revenues could be better spent on programs that directly prevent the causes of asthma. The $15 million gift item was postponed from the budget because of a lack of public transparency. We need this to be a completely transparent and public process as it is advertised on EBCE's website.

EBCE already has a number of programs in its Local Development Business Plan designed to reduce the use of fossil fuels and the pollution that is a significant trigger of asthma. However, funding for these programs in the proposed 2022-2023 budget is insufficient to support access for low income customers and environmental justice communities. Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities that have the highest asthma rates due to high levels of environmental pollution are not being served. If the $15 million was added to EBCE's Local Development programs it would go a long way towards addressing environmental justice, addressing the historic and systemic environmental inequities suffered by BIPOC communities. In addition, it would move us forward in the just transition to a clean and resilient energy system that EBCE committed to for our East Bay community.

EBCE is uniquely qualified to deliver clean energy programs and projects to the community it serves. We urge the Board to use the $15 million to increase equitable access to local clean energy in EBCE's jurisdiction; redirect the proposed UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital donation to fund EBCE's own critical mission.

Clerk of the Board Adrian Bankhead,

Dear East Bay Community Energy Board of Directors,

I urge you to redirect the proposed $15 million dollars of ratepayer funds into local development business plan programs instead of giving it away to UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. While the Children's Hospital is an important institution, it is currently well-funded with over $2 billion in assets and over $500 million in donations this year. $15 million in East Bay Community Energy (EBCE) electricity customer revenues could be better spent on programs that directly prevent the causes of asthma. The $15 million gift item was postponed from the budget because of a lack of public transparency. We need this to be a completely transparent and public process as it is advertised on EBCE's website.

EBCE already has a number of programs in its Local Development Business Plan designed to reduce the use of fossil fuels and the pollution that is a significant trigger of asthma. However, funding for these programs in the proposed 2022-2023 budget is insufficient to support access for low income customers and environmental justice communities. Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities that have the highest asthma rates due to high levels of environmental pollution are not being served. If the $15 million was added to EBCE's Local Development programs it would go a long way towards addressing environmental justice, addressing the historic and systemic environmental inequities suffered by BIPOC communities. In addition, it would move us forward in the just transition to a clean and resilient energy system that EBCE committed to for our East Bay community.

EBCE is uniquely qualified to deliver clean energy programs and projects to the community it serves. We urge the Board to use the $15 million to increase equitable access to local clean energy in EBCE's jurisdiction; redirect the proposed UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital donation to fund EBCE's own critical mission.

Thank you for your time,

Please spend $15 Million on clean energy that PREVENTS asthma & heat deaths - not on hospitals or charity

Clerk of the Board Adrian Bankhead,

Dear East Bay Community Energy Board of Directors,

I LOVE East Bay Clean Energy! The fact that we are doing something in the Bay Area to make clean power available, and to cut our emissions is so important, at this time when globally we need to cut our emissions by 50% in the next 7 years.

But I was alarmed when I heard you wanted to give away $15 of ratepayer funds to a private charity. East Bay Clean Energy can work to not only decrease the causes of asthma but also decrease the number of heat related deaths and climate immigrants - because the same pollution that warms the planet is the pollution that causes asthma.

Children's Hospital has their mission and they are well-funded to do it. East Bay Community Energy (EBCE) has a different mission. Electricity customer revenues could be better spent on programs that directly prevent the causes of asthma. (and heat deaths).

EBCE can address the root causes of these problems, as well as address environmental injustice. If the $15 million was added to EBCE's Local Development programs it would go a long way towards addressing environmental justice as well as addressing the historic and systemic environmental inequities suffered by BIPOC communities. In addition, it would move us forward in the just transition to a clean and resilient energy system that EBCE committed to for our East Bay community.

Please use the $15 million to increase equitable access to local clean energy in EBCE's jurisdiction; redirect the proposed UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital donation to fund EBCE's own critical mission.

Clerk of the Board Adrian Bankhead,

Dear East Bay Community Energy Board of Directors,

I urge you to redirect the proposed $15 million dollars of ratepayer funds into local development business plan programs instead of giving it away to UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital. While the Children's Hospital is an important institution, it is currently well-funded with over $2 billion in assets and over $500 million in donations this year. $15 million in East Bay Community Energy (EBCE) electricity customer revenues could be better spent on programs that directly prevent the causes of asthma. The $15 million gift item was postponed from the budget because of a lack of public transparency. We need this to be a completely transparent and public process as it is advertised on EBCE's website.

EBCE already has a number of programs in its Local Development Business Plan designed to reduce the use of fossil fuels and the pollution that is a significant trigger of asthma. However, funding for these programs in the proposed 2022-2023 budget is insufficient to support access for low income customers and environmental justice communities. Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities that have the highest asthma rates due to high levels of environmental pollution are not being served. If the $15 million was added to EBCE's Local Development programs it would go a long way towards addressing environmental justice, addressing the historic and systemic environmental inequities suffered by BIPOC communities. In addition, it would move us forward in the just transition to a clean and resilient energy system that EBCE committed to for our East Bay community.

EBCE is uniquely qualified to deliver clean energy programs and projects to the community it serves. We urge the Board to use the $15 million to increase equitable access to local clean energy in EBCE's jurisdiction; redirect the proposed UCSF Benioff Children's Hospital donation to fund EBCE's own critical mission.

Thank you for your time,
Leana Zang-Rosetti
