

PRODAN TARTUFI

The core activity of our family business is collecting fresh truffles, preserved as a tradition through three generations, as well as the distribution of our own products made from the Istrian truffles and finest natural ingredients. We hunt truffles with our specially trained dogs, strolling through the possitions of our private woods, inherited and kept as a best family secret.

Among the high-quality of our truffles, our customers all over the world cherish the fact that they are always buying fresh truffles, picked the same day in the wild of our local Istrian woods and delivered directly to their adress within 24 hours.

The long-standing tradition, dedication of the whole family, and above all our passion and love for truffles – those are the ingredients that make our products special and give them their recognizable flavours.

For everyone who wants to discover new and unique experience by exploring the real Istria with the locals, truffle hunting is the adventure you shouldn't miss. You will find out all about truffles and training of our dogs, go hunting with us and enjoy in our home made truffle specialties .

Visit us, join us on unforgettable truffle hunting experience and find out the story behind the treasure of nature – the truffle.
