Quarcoo Initiatives Company (Quin Organics) is a Ghanaian owned company that is certified organic with its farmer based organisations. The company provides both technical assistance and trainings for the farmer based organisations to ensure the production of high quality fruits.

The company has sustainability at heart hence ensures that its processes focus on environmental, economic and social sustainability. Quin Organics implements a “zero waste” policy, to ensure a circular economy in our operations.

Quin Organics provides a wide diversity of organic certified products than many of its competitors, offering its customers a unique blend of authentic products to choose. The unique rich soils and climate in Ghana combined with good agronomic practices employed on our farms ensure safe tropical fruits and products with great unique exotic taste and flavor.
