The Cabriole Cocktail Table creates a dialogue between history and modernity, presenting a sculptural abstraction of the 18th-century Cabriole leg.

Grounded by a solid cast bronze base, the tapering stem rises with quiet strength, delicately supporting a circular marble top. It is a study in balance. Designed to function as a movable sculpture, the table stands confidently alone or serves as a connective element within larger seating compositions. Engineered with precision, the marble and bronze unite with an absence of any visible fixings, ensuring an uninterrupted visual flow.

Hand-crafted in Great Britain, Cabriole is a testament to artisanal mastery and a refined evolution of classical design.
