

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

The Flagship is a praxis-oriented journal that seeks to bridge the gap between research and practice. Although it is non-institutionally affiliated, it maintains zero-tolerance to predatory tendencies and allied publishing frauds. It is also committed the established rules and ethics of professional journal publishing, including rigorous blind review and anti-plagiarism.

The journal is deliberately multi-disciplinary in scope, accepting theoretical, empirical, and policy/ practice-oriented manuscripts of diverse methodological approaches. It is an open-access journal that adheres to the standards of double blinded peer-review. The Journal is committed to publishing peer-reviewed articles that make significant contributions to politics, governance and development as well as in peace and conflict resolution and in security matters.

Papers publishable in the Flagship must be theoretically and/ or empirically grounded, with strong and significant implications for policy and practice. Focal areas of interest for the journal include, but not limited to, the following:

- * Political economy
- * security studies
- * development studies
- * democratic studies
- * policy and governance

- * International relations/ studies
- * diplomatic history
- * intergroup relations
- * conflict and peace
- * public administration
- * development economic
- * religion and ethics
- * philosophy
- * sociology
- * gender and development
- * political ecology
- * agribusiness
- * entrepreneurship
- * social psychology
- * heritage studies
- * any other fields of liberal studies

The Flagship is an online journal with a flexible and continuous issuing cycle.

Once a paper has been accepted after due editorial and peer review, it is scheduled for online publication.

No charges apply for manuscripts under consideration/ review until formal acceptance is communicated.

Authors of works published in the journal are entitled to e-complimentary copies, and this is granted as soon as the online publication is made.

The recommended referencing/ citation format for the journal publishing is the current APA or MLA style (at the time of submission)

The minimum threshold for a manuscript's volume is 3, 500 words while the maximum threshold is 7, 000 words.

Excessive quantifications and use of jargons are not acceptable.

The manuscript handling charges per accepted manuscript is:

Nigeria - N30, 000.00

Foreign - USD25.00

Editorial contacts:

Dr. Nebeife Chigozie Joseph

+234(0)8030958707

Editorial Secretary

Dr. Al Chukwuma Okoli

+234(0)8037849366

Editor-in-chief

The Flagship is undergoing indexing in Google scholar as well as other reputable platforms.

GUIDELINES TO AUTHORS:

Completed papers should be typeset in Microsoft word and double-spaced, while the text should be in Times New Roman, 12 font size, and not exceeding 20 pages. The recommended referencing format is APA (6th edition) with in-text citations consistent with the format.

Editor-in- Chief

Okoli Chukwuma, Ph.D, Department of Political Science, Federal University of Lafia, Nigeria.

Editorial Secretary

Nebeife Chigozie Joseph, Ph.D, Department of Political Science, Federal Wukari- Nigeria.

Editorial Board Members

1. Solomon T. Anjide, Ph.D, National Institute for Policy and Strategic Studies (NIPSS), Kuru, Jos, Nigeria

2. George A. Atelhe, Ph.D, Department of Political Science, University of Calabar, Nigeria

3. Edward N. Lenshie, Ph.D, Department of Political Science and International Relations, Taraba State University, Jalingo, Nigeria

4. Chika E. Eze, Ph.D, Department of Psychology, Veritas University, Abuja, Nigeria

5. Philip T. Iortyer, Ph.D, Department of History and International Studies, Federal University of Lafia, Nigeria

6. Cornelius O. Ogayi, Ph.D, General Studies Unit, Federal Polytechnic, Ohodo, Nigeria

Editorial Advisors

1. Saliou Ngom, Ph.D, Department of Political Science, Anta Diop University, Dakar, Senegal.
2. Dominic D. Arthur, Ph.D, Department of Social, Political and Historical Studies, University of Development Studies, Ghana
3. Francis N. Okpaleke, Ph.D, Independent Scholar, Canada