SNACK FACTS

BFY Snack Purchases Higher Among Young Adults

Consumers aged 18-34 are significantly more likely to purchase Better-For-You snacks, likely driven by their tendency to snack more often or replace standard meals with snacking. Millennials are the most frequent snackers while iGens are the most likely to have increased snacking compared to last year (see Snacking Motivations and Attitudes – US, May 2017). The same report finds that younger consumers place greater importance on natural, organic, and added nutrition claims and wish there were more healthy snack options, making the BFY snacks category attractive for this group.

Nutritional Snacks, Snack Mixes & Nut Segments Maintain Growth

Sales of nutritional snacks and trail mixes saw a 1.50 percent growth in the 52 weeks ending March 25th, 2018 over the previous year, accounting for $1.2 billion in sales. Snack nuts accounted for $4.7 billion in sales for the year, up 2.07 percent in the last 52 weeks ending March 25th, 2018 over last year's numbers as well.
