

IT Gifts for IT Admins

Almost two years into the pandemic, IT teams responsible for securing remote work report having the greatest gratitude for their job, for remote work, and for their ability to secure their workplace in the new hybrid model.

The survey asked 509 U.S.-based and 503 U.K.-based IT professionals about what they were most thankful for in IT and what IT gifts they would most like this holiday season.

IT Admins Like Their Gaming

For the holidays, they want:

23% gaming consoles and accessories

17% new laptop

17% new phone

For Those Gamers

47% want a

13% want a

8% want a

Beyond Consumer Electronics

My wish list

- 1. Airplane Simulator*
- 2. Self-Driving Car*
- 3. Rest and Relaxation*

IT Admins are Thankful

“ That we didn’t get attacked. ”

“ There were no major breaches, overall continued productivity in a hybrid environment. ”

“ That we have senior leadership who actually understands the threat of ransomware. ”