Alpha Cogs thinks that is due to everybody trying to do their best to contribute to saving and taking care of our Planet and environment.

Our commitment to this is clear and well-documented. It is, for this reason, we are proud to have worked to build Get Water Fit app that will help people in saving one of the most precious resources we have, the Water.

Never like these days, it is important to be considerate using resources being electricity, petrol or water.

For these reasons Alpha Cogs team supported the client not only in developing their application, but also by providing consultancy about the best practices and features to include in their application and supporting Get Water Fit during the launch of the new app in the Google and Apple stores.

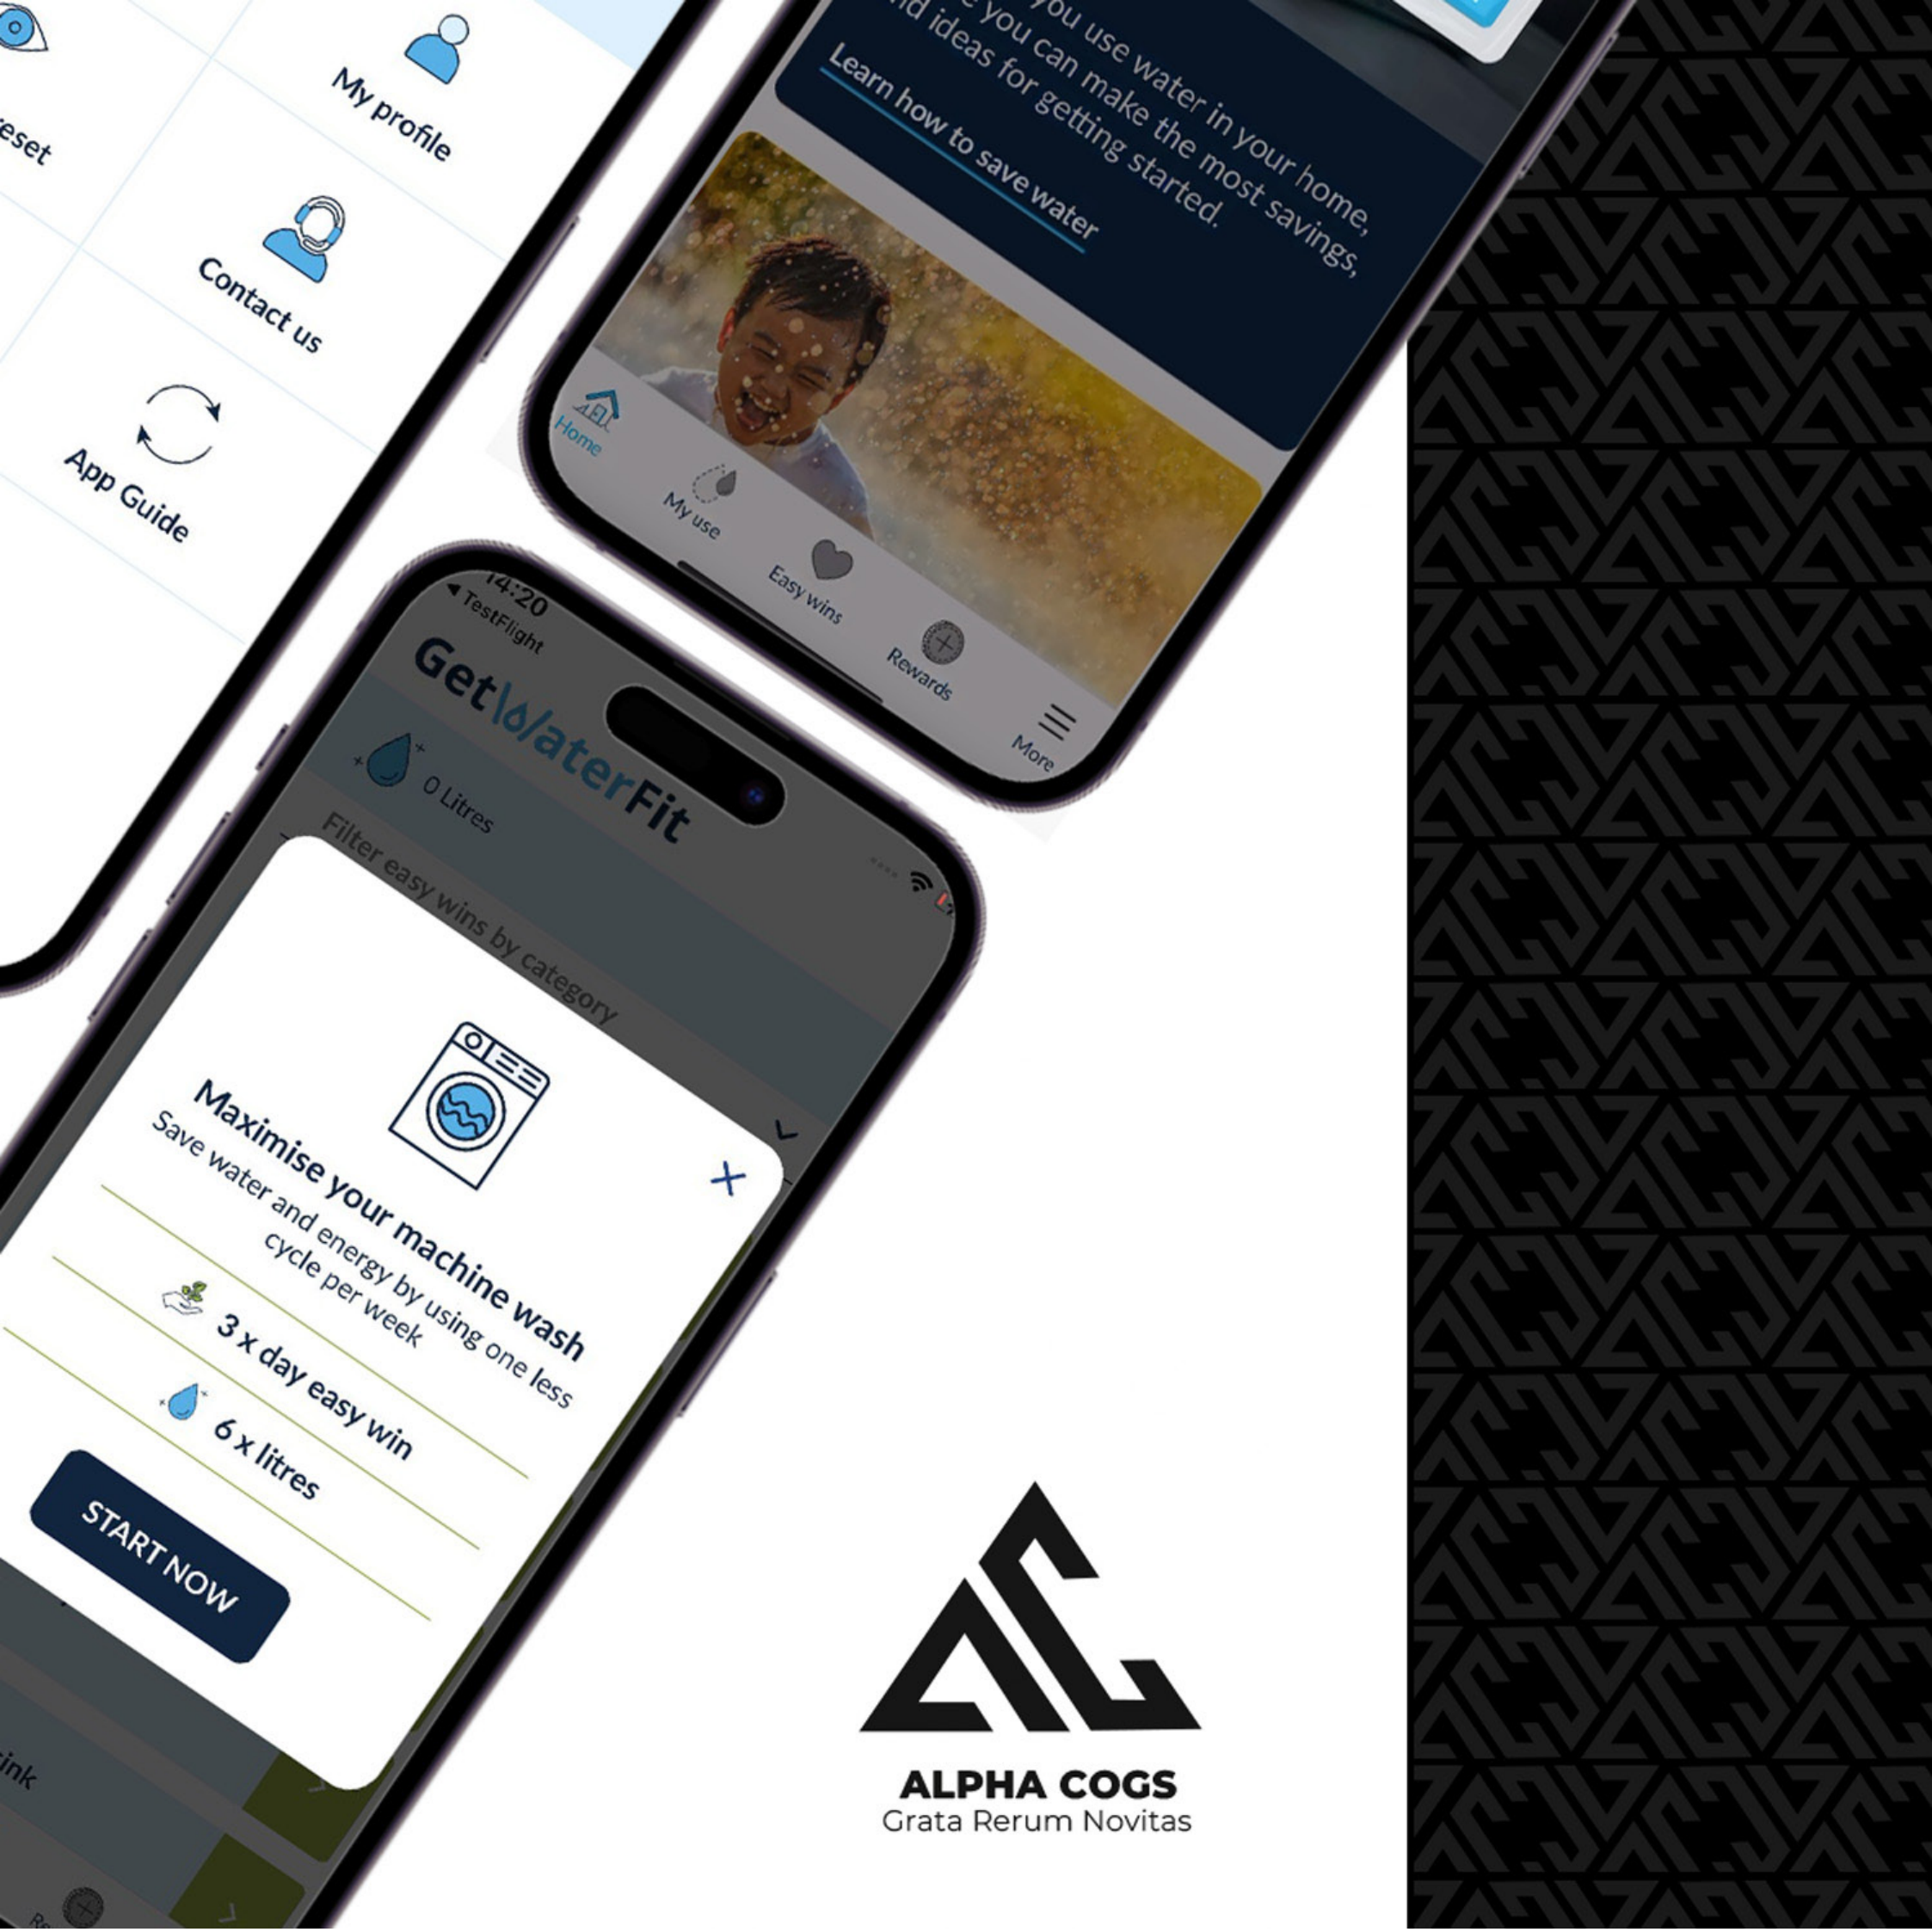

The feature we proud of the most and that we believe will make the application more enjoyable to its users, is the contextual in-app guide that guides the user at its first app use with a step-by-step easy-to-follow interactive guide.

We Celebrate our client and we went the extra mile building this app as it is so very close to our beliefs.
