“We’ve loved the flexibility of our new space and that everyone’s able to use it in their preferred way. From volunteer interviews and meetings with donors to small group collaboration and after school programs, we’ve already made a ton of use out of the meeting rooms and breakout areas. ”

- Jennifer Warren, Executive Director at Western Youth Network

Kimball International proudly partnered with Western Youth Network (WYN) of Boone, North Carolina, for a renovation project of their administrative space. WYN is a non-profit organization that offers services for children, adolescents, and teens. Through prevention and intervention programs, such as mentoring, after school courses, and summer camp, WYN provides youth with the tools they need to reach their full potential.

The goal of the renovation project was to design an inspiring and welcoming area that would serve as a hub for WYN staff to work and meet with kids, as well as offer temporary workspace for visiting employees. It was important that the new space created an environment that would support the organization’s mission and facilitate their activities.

Kimball International’s collaboration with WYN began through our strong partnership with WJ Office, the selected dealer for the project. As a non-profit organization, WYN relies on fundraising efforts. Understanding these financial requirements, we worked closely with WYN to develop a design plan within their budget. Our live-design process and the utilization of OMNIA allowed us to visualize and coordinate all products and finishes, ensuring they met the specific needs of the renovation.

“It was really nice that we all had an opportunity during the live-design process to see what options were available, give feedback, and visualize what the new space would look like before making decisions,” said Jennifer Warren, Executive Director at Western Youth Network. “The final result is exactly what we hoped for.”
