

ANGEL LEATHER RADERMECKER®

The Angel leather reflects the soul of the craft of the RADERMECKER® tannery. Three generations of chemists gave birth to this noble solution. The flexibility is reinforced by its silky finish, the resistance by beef and bull leather's properties, and elasticity by our nourishing preparation associated to the firmness thanks to a mineral tanning. This alloy of resistance, flexibility and feel is appreciated by our customers in furnishing, upholstery and equestrian environment. This leather is tinted in a bath, the tint is the reflect of nuances related to the fiber concentration and it predisposes the patina. The leather grain varies with its thickness. Thicker, it has a more apparent grain. The flesh of this leather presents a velvety aspect. We adjust the finish according to your use.
