Roschelle Fritz, Board Chair
Lewis County Hospital District #1
521 Adams Ave.
Morton, WA 98356

Dear Board Chair Fritz,

I am writing to you to submit my name as a replacement for Mr. Kenton Smith, upon his retirement, as the Packwood/Randle member of the Board of Commissioners for Lewis County Hospital District #1. I believe that I possess attributes and relationships which bring valuable perspective to the board in representing the health care needs of a wide cross-section of the East Lewis County community. Specifically, I feel I can represent three distinct groupings of East Lewis County residents that would otherwise be under-represented on the board: 1) my parents' peer group of retired residents, especially in the Packwood area, who face barriers to health care access in maintaining their preferred residency in East Lewis County, 2) as a member of the LGBTQ community, facing a lack of health care providers able to meet our needs, and 3) as a person currently working in East Lewis County, outside the health care field, and without employer-provided health coverage, facing both the paucity of health insurance coverage options for individuals, and navigating the health care system from the outside.

First, I feel it is best to explain my history in East Lewis County, and my access to health care over my lifetime. I was born as a planned C-section in Swedish Hospital, Seattle, even though my parents were both teachers in the White Pass School District. However, for the entirety of my childhood, Dr. Gerald Stanley was my primary care provider in Packwood until he was unable to continue his Packwood practice in the late '90s. Around that time, I went to college at the University of Idaho, and utilized the campus health system during those years. I returned to East Lewis County, serving on the Cispus Center AmeriCorps team in 2003, whereupon I used Daryl Conklin at the Randle Clinic for my primary health care. I did a second year of AmeriCorps with Habitat for Humanity in Washington, DC, and stayed to work with that organization for a total of five years, with occasional use of walk-in clinics in the DC area for minor health issues. I moved back to East Lewis County a decade ago and have primarily used Arbor Health's Randle Clinic for my health care in that time, utilizing both Washington Apple Health coverage after eligibility through the ACA, and with private coverage through the state's individual marketplace. I am currently employed by the Student Leadership program of the Association of Washington School Principals at the Cispus Learning Center, with primarily administrative and program support roles.

As mentioned earlier, I believe one of my primary assets to the board would be my connection to various communities under-represented in the current board. The first of those communities are the retired individuals present throughout the community, many without local family members, who are especially concentrated in the High Valley community of Packwood. I have watched over the past decade as many of these individuals have sold their chosen homes in East Lewis County in order to live in places where their working children can assist them in transportation and logistics for their increasingly critical health care needs. As Arbor Health plans for the future in terms of both facilities and services, this population's concerns represent unmet community health needs that could be dramatically improved by careful consideration, outreach, and program development. My connection to this population through my history in the community, as well as my family's ongoing relationship with this population would be of considerable value to the board.

My second asset to the board lies in my insight and connections to the LGBTQ community in East Lewis County. LGBTQ individuals often face both systemic and social barriers in accessing health care in rural communities such as ours. There are two distinct factors that are especially prevalent in rural settings: not knowing if a health provider is up-to-date on LGBTQ health practices, and a lack of trust that health practitioners will deal with LGBTQ health issues appropriately. Especially in the era of federal regulations undermining the baseline of trust that LGBTQ individuals can assume in regards to health care providers, it falls upon Arbor Health to not only ensure that they have practitioners who are well versed in LGBTQ health needs, but also to communicate that those needs can be met fully and appropriately at its facilities.

My third asset is actually the main reason conveyed to me as to why Mr. Smith has asked me to apply to replace him. I am only 40 years old, and work in East Lewis County outside the health care field. I would absolutely decry a Board of Commissioners if it lacked the voices of people with inside experience in delivering health care, and likewise if it didn't include the voices of retired individuals, who have an especially vested interest in ensuring access to the highest quality health care. However, those voices are not the only ones of value, and it is important to be able to meet the general needs of the working community, and absolutely essential that the voices of those who only have experience consuming health care services be present. As a health care consumer, I don't have access to the inside knowledge about how to deal with doctors, billing systems, and insurance companies. I have to navigate an incredibly complex system to maximize my health outcomes while also limiting my financial exposure when accessing health care. At a time when 40% of Americans cannot weather a $400 emergency expense, this is a significant barrier for many in our current health care climate. Having someone who has dealt with those issues without insider knowledge is of critical importance if Arbor Health is to maintain and enhance its ability to meet its responsibilities to the broader East Lewis County community.

My last asset is an intangible, which I believe lies at the heart as to why Mr. Smith asked me to apply for his seat on the Board of Commissioners. I am fundamentally a systems thinker with an analytical bent, and I live my life trying to do the most good in the world I can. There is a reason why my professional life has found me so consistently working in the non-profit sector; I believe in making people's lives better. Ensuring the highest quality of health care to everyone in East Lewis County is surely one of the greatest opportunities for me to concretely manifest that lifelong pursuit. I would be honored and inspired to be part of that mission with the LCHD#1 Board of Commissioners, and believe I would be an asset to the board in realizing its mission in the East Lewis County community.

With much thanks for your consideration,

Ms. Leianne Everett, CEO
PO Box 1138
Morton, WA 98356

Dear Ms. Everett,

I am writing this letter to express my interest in the Board Commissioner District 2 position that is becoming vacant. My interest in the community is very important to my future and health facilities are at the forefront of this community. This past year my wife and I moved our permanent residence to our cabin in the Cispus community, which we have owned for over 13 years. This was triggered by our retirement (partial in my case).

My accounting career took me through many challenges as I specialized in the accounting/senior management of construction companies. I left my accounting career with a medium sized site development company in Tacoma as the Chief Financial Officer, during which time the company tripled in size, my contribution was building business profiles and executing them profitably. Since that time in 2010, I have acquired over $15 million in commercial real estate as an equal partner and the author of each of the companies. I am active in the management of each company, setting up budgets, maintaining quality financial statements along with annual meetings with each partnership. I offer a depth of business knowledge and several years of experience as a board of director's participant.

Education:

- Bachelor of Science degree in accounting with a minor in economics at the University of Maryland, College Park
- United States Coast Guard Masters 50 ton License, where I have passed a thorough examination from Homeland Security.
- Construction Financial Management Association, past member
- Member of Toastmasters Olympia

Listed are some of the board of director positions I have held:

- Seaport Museum, Tacoma waterfront. A non-profit organization for the benefit of the public with a flair for marine education for children.
- Chambers Creek Boat Owners Inc. Steilacoom, WA Treasurer responsible for the budget, financial reporting and physical assets of the organization.
- Tacoma Yacht Club, a 1,500 member non-profit boating organization. Actively participated on the board for four years as well as a leader of the organization as Commodore for three years.
 - I am still on the Finance Committee of this non-profit organization.
- United Church of Christ Seneca Valley, Treasurer and active participant in the development and growth of this community church.

Business Owner:

- Fife Business Investors, LLC Commercial real estate in Fife, WA
 - Managing member, active partner
- Fife Commercial Investments, LLC Commercial real estate in Fife, WA
 - Managing member, active partner
- Huson Street Partners, LLC Commercial real estate in Tacoma, WA
 - Member, silent partner
- Adventure Investments, LLC, holding company
 - Managing member

I have lived and raised two beautiful children in the Tacoma/Seattle metropolitan area. They have provided me with five grandchildren that will someday continue my legacy at the Cabin in Cispus. With this in mind gives me the motivation to apply for this community outreach board position. Please feel free to contact via phone if you have an interest in my participation in our local community hospital services.

Best Regards,

James C. Martinek

Board of Directors
Arbor Health, Morton Hospital
Box 1138
Morton, WA 98356

Dear Board of Commissioners, Mrs. Everett, and East Lewis County Residents

Upon learning of your opening for the position of Lewis County Hospital District Commissioner, I felt compelled to submit my application for your consideration. As a public educator, voter, and resident of Randle, I would work hard to foster a positive and mutually beneficial relationship between the citizens of East Lewis County and Morton Hospital.

Small towns and rural living are in my blood. I grew up in the Okanogan Valley and completed my education at Central Washington University. For the last twenty years, I have worked in education as a paraprofessional, classroom teacher, and school principal. I have had the privilege to reside in Lewis County for the last ten years. I served as Pe Ell's k-12 Principal for four years and have been at White Pass School District for the previous five years. During my tenure, I have witnessed the needs that our residents have for community services and the barriers they face accessing those services. I see the struggles our young people have in accessing medical, mental, and social services in our rural community. My goal is to build bridges and forge pathways over and through these obstacles so that our residents can access the quality care they deserve.

I wish to contribute to the solutions in meeting the healthcare needs of all residents of East Lewis County. Through a team and community-based approach, we can increase access to medical care, keep prices competitive, and promote healthy lifestyles. My professional skill set, temperament, and work experience would be an asset to the Lewis County Hospital District in meeting those objectives. Thank you for taking the time to go through my application.

Yours sincerely,

Christopher Schumaker
