As we transition to cooler temperatures and the pumpkin spice season, fall welcomes a host of exciting activity at Emanate Health Foundation, including the grand opening of our new cancer center! In less than three weeks, we will host the Autumn Nocturne gala on October 7, celebrating how your collective generosity elevates our community’s health care. Stay tuned next week for details about our online auction, which is another great way to support our patients and caregivers. We also are hosting estate planning seminars on October 25, providing friends of Emanate Health with this valuable service to help secure their legacy.

This issue, we recognize the tremendous impact of our Nutrition for Life program, which provides healthy meals and dietary resources to malnourished patients. I also hope you enjoy reading about Kim Rhodes, who honors her connection with her physician, Robert Baker MD, with an annual gift. From grantmakers to grateful patients, the Foundation appreciates your ongoing and generous support!

With gratitude,

Greg Lehr, Ed.D., Chief Philanthropy Officer

Nutrition for Life Meets Needs of Patients and Caregivers

Married for 63 years, Irma and Richard Viveros were high school sweethearts and have lived in Glendora for more than five decades. Irma recalled Richard’s multiple admissions to Emanate Health Foothill Presbyterian Hospital and the “long journey” they have had in managing his diabetes and kidney challenges. Through the Nutrition for Life program, Emanate Health staff and volunteers deliver healthy meals to eligible patients like Richard and Irma, while also providing them with dietary consultations and resources. “I was having a hard time making adequate meals for him, so this program was a godsend,” said Irma.

All in the Family: Grateful Patient Gives Back in Honor of Longtime Physician

Going to the doctor is not a chore for Kim Rhodes, who recalls visiting Donald Baker, MD, with her parents and sister. “He was a household name for us,” says Kim of the late physician, who began his Covina-based practice in 1960. Donald’s son, Robert L. Baker, MD, took over his father’s family medicine practice in 1988, and Kim has found that the tradition of personal care and compassion has certainly continued. “Dr. Baker is approachable and always makes me feel comfortable.” In gratitude for the exceptional care she has received at Baker Family Practice, Kim makes an annual gift to Emanate Health Foundation in honor of Dr. Baker. With her contribution, she includes a personal note expressing her appreciation of him and his team. “I know many others who have similar experiences with him,” shares Kim.
From modernizing technology like in our new Cancer Center to meeting community needs through our Nutrition for Life program, donors continue to support Emanate Health Foundation’s historic campaign. Have you joined the campaign yet?
