

an online prenatal support group

You are invited to a virtual group education session led by Dr. Brett Larson, OB/GYN.

Grow together with support from the LRH Women's Health Team and other women like you.

The session is free and open to all area women. If you are interested in joining this educational group, please fill in the information below and give to your nurse. A Zoom Link will be sent to you for each meeting. Times may vary, but Wednesday at 1:00 pm is the current meeting time.
