LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

For nearly 100 years, Mary Rutan Hospital has been serving the health care needs of people in Logan County and our surrounding area. We continue to care for our patients by nurturing the sick and strengthening the well. We remain dedicated to providing progressive quality health care with a personal touch, with the convenience only a community hospital can offer.

2010 proved to be another challenging year in health care. We believed we could rise above the challenges, and we did, bucking trends and outperforming expectations. We have set our sights on providing world-class service and outcomes, delivered by skilled and engaged staff. By focusing on our patients, we believe that we can be successful even during these difficult and challenging times.

This year we saw an increase in revenues and capital investments, inpatient surgeries, outpatient therapy visits and newborn deliveries at The Family Birth Center; while experiencing constant demand for services across the board. We invested in digital mammography equipment, received outstanding rankings and the Best Practices designation for our national core measures, and saw our patient satisfaction scores continue to rise.

We are fortunate to have a dedicated team of more than 800 caregivers, including nurses, doctors, other clinicians, as well as our many other employees and volunteers who strive each and every day to ensure the health and well-being of the residents of Logan County and the surrounding areas. I extend my sincere thanks for their timeless service and I thank you, our donors and friends, for your generosity in support of Mary Rutan Hospital.

Respectfully submitted,

Amanda C. Goble

OUTSTANDING SERVICE RECOGNIZED BY MARY RUTAN FOUNDATION

For the past twenty years, Mary Rutan Foundation has recognized deserving citizens or organizations that place service to humanity ahead of personal gain or recognition by making substantial contributions to the community and Mary Rutan Hospital.

Today, the tradition still continues. At the recent annual meeting of the Mary Rutan Health Association, H. Dean Horn and Nancy J. Harmon were recognized as the 2011 Meritorious Service Award recipients.

- Honored with the external award was H. Dean Horn. Mr. Horn was recognized for his compassionate heart and selfless acts in service and assistance to the residents of Logan County.
- Nancy J. Harmon, Community Health Nurse, was selected as the internal meritorious service award recipient. Ms. Harmon is a tireless promoter of Mary Rutan Hospital and other various civic organizations.

Each of these recipients exemplifies the criteria for this honor as a deserving citizen that has made selfless contributions to the community and Mary Rutan Hospital.

ACCREDITED CHEST PAIN CENTER

Mary Rutan Hospital is an accredited Chest Pain Center that has exceeded the stringent standards set by the Society for Chest Pain Centers. The accreditation assures the most efficient, effective emergency cardiac care for all patients with chest pain and related symptoms.

“The staff of Mary Rutan Hospital is proud of this distinction”, said Mandy Goble, President and CEO. “The high standards that are set by the society will ensure that our community has a facility that is recognized for top notch cardiac care and disease management.”

Heart attacks are the leading cause of death in the United States, with 600,000 dying annually of heart disease. More than five million Americans visit hospitals each year with chest pain. The goal of the Society of Chest Pain Centers is to significantly reduce the mortality rate of these patients by teaching the public to recognize and react to the early symptoms of a possible heart attack, reduce the time that it takes to receive treatment, and increase the accuracy and effectiveness of treatment.

At a recent meeting, Dr. Evan Dixon, Medical Director of The Chest Pain Center, emphasized the quality of care associated with this accreditation distinction. He noted the contribution of hospital support and the dedication and hard work by members of the CPC committee. He asked the community to learn about early warning symptoms of heart attack and to use our skilled EMS squads by calling 911 in time of need.

Lois Coons, Director of Cardiology at Mary Rutan Hospital, explained that The Chest Pain Center’s protocol-driven and systematic approach to patient management allows physicians to reduce time to treatment during the early stages of a heart attack, when treatments are most effective, and to better monitor patients when it is not clear whether they are having a coronary event. “Such observation helps ensure that a patient is neither sent home too early nor needlessly admitted.”

The Chest Pain Center at Mary Rutan Hospital has demonstrated its expertise and commitment to quality patient care by meeting or exceeding a wide set of stringent criteria and completing on-site evaluations by a review team from the Society of Chest Pain Centers.

“The staff of Mary Rutan Hospital is proud of this distinction. The high standards that are set by the society will ensure that our community has a facility that is recognized for top notch cardiac care and disease management.”

Mandy Goble
President & Chief Executive Officer
Mary Rutan Hospital

The warning signs of a heart attack may include:

- Pressure, fullness, and squeezing pain in the center of the chest, that spreads to the neck, shoulder or jaw.
- Chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath.

Additional symptoms may include one or more of the following;

- Upper abdominal pressure or discomfort, lower chest discomfort, back pain, unusual fatigue, unusual shortness of breath or dizziness.

Most importantly, if you believe you are experiencing a heart attack, it is imperative that you call 911 and not wait more than five minutes.

“When I arrived at Mary Rutan Hospital’s Emergency Department they knew just what to do. I received excellent cardiac care that may very well have saved my life.”

WE'VE GONE DIGITAL

Mary Rutan Hospital and the Ewing H. Crawfis Imaging Center are pleased to offer the latest in full-field digital mammography. The new digital unit provides revolutionary digital imaging technology and does it with 30 percent less radiation than any other digital unit within a 60-mile radius of Bellefontaine.

“Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death among women, exceeded only by lung cancer. Statistics indicate that one in eight women will develop breast cancer sometime in her life, making the need for advanced screening technology so vital,” said Dr. Darlene Weyer, radiologist with Mary Rutan Hospital. “The stage at which breast cancer is detected influences a woman’s chance of survival. If detected early, the five-year survival rate is 97 percent.”

Weyer says digital mammography is similar to standard mammography, in that X-rays are used to produce detailed images of the breast. She says the conversion to digital mammography allows the image to be viewed on a computer screen in seconds by the technologist and within minutes by the radiologist. The digital image can be manipulated to enhance the image after the exam is complete. The magnification, orientation, brightness and contrast of the image may be altered after the exam is completed to help the radiologist see certain areas of the breast more clearly.

“Digital mammography not only provides a clearer detail of the breast image in real time for the patient who might have had an abnormal mammography in the past, it means peace of mind,” said Dr. Weyer. “I am able to enhance virtually any part of the breast image for a more in-depth study. This advanced image quality translates to higher patient satisfaction and better outcomes.”

Digital mammograms have been shown to be more accurate, particularly for women who are younger than 50, have dense breasts and are premenopausal. In many cases, digital mammograms are able to pinpoint more serious cancers earlier, meaning treatment can begin sooner.

The American Cancer Society recommends annual mammograms for women beginning at age 40, with the exception being those who have a family history, then a mammogram is recommended at age 35. For women in their 20’s and 30’s, a clinical breast exam is suggested as part of a regular health exam, as well as monthly self breast examinations.

Mary Rutan Hospital is committed to the fight against breast cancer. In offering digital mammography, the Ewing H. Crawfis Imaging Center provides the latest in imaging quality.

“The Family Birth Center at Mary Rutan Hospital provided our family with wonderful and fulfilling birth experiences. The devoted staff provided us the support we needed. We are forever grateful for our daughters.”
