Alzheimer's Association

For people living with dementia, increased confusion is often the first symptom of any illness. If a person living with dementia shows rapidly increased confusion, here are some recommendations:

- Contact their health care provider for advice
- Provide extra and written reminders to help them remember important daily hygienic practices
- Place signs in the bathroom to remind them to wash their hands with soap for 20 seconds. You can also demonstrate thorough hand-washing.
  - If they're not able to hand-wash easily or get to the sink, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol.
- Ask the pharmacist or doctor about mail-ordering prescriptions
- Make alternative plans in case adult day care, respite, and other services or centers are modified or cancelled in response to COVID-19
- Make alternative plans for care management if the primary caregiver should become sick

Protective and legal services

Adult Protective Services (APS)

During the Coronavirus/COVID-19 Pandemic, APS is following State guidelines and are prioritizing responses for the safety of everyone. For those at highest risk and in imminent danger, APS may coordinate with law enforcement or first responders as needed.

APS' 24/7 hotline remains operational to accept reports of suspected or known abuse and neglect to elders and dependent adults.

- Call: 1-408-975-4900 or 1-800-414-2002

Santa Clara County (SCC) COVID-19 Eviction Moratorium

Santa Clara County's COVID-19 Eviction Moratorium protects tenants and small businesses, who have lost income related to COVID-19, from eviction through May 31, 2020 with a possible extension. While the moratorium prevents landlords from evicting tenants, it does not waive any rent payments, or allow the tenants to refuse rent. If tenants cannot pay rent, they should immediately provide documentation to their landlord to show that their income has been affected.

- If landlord still provides notice or threatens to evict tenant, call Law Foundation at 1-408-280-2424.
- Hours of operation: Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

UPDATE:

The no-cause eviction moratorium has been extended in Santa Clara County until August 31, 2020, but the State has yet to approve the extension past May 31, 2020. If you cannot pay all or part of your rent due to COVID-19, you have 120 days to pay any back rent due. As soon as you can pay your past due rent, it is strongly recommended that you do so to avoid a large rent bill due at the end of the 120 days.

Beware of Coronavirus Scams

California Health Advocates warns consumers to be vigilant as scams related to coronavirus testing have begun to circulate. Never give out your Medicare number over the phone or to door-to-door solicitors offering tests.
