This notice is provided on behalf of Southeast Health and its Medical Staff. This notice is intended to inform you about our practices related to the protection of the privacy of your medical records. Generally, we are required by law to ensure that medical information that identifies you is kept private. Further, we must give you this information related to our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to any medical information we create or receive about you. We are required by law to follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect.

This notice will explain how we may use and disclose your medical information and your rights related to any medical information that we have about you. This notice applies to the medical records that are generated in or by this hospital, whether made by hospital personnel or your personal doctor. Your personal doctor may have different policies or notices regarding the doctor's use and disclosure of your medical information created in the doctor's office or clinic.

With few exceptions, we are required to obtain your authorization for the use or disclosure of the information. We have listed some of the reasons why we might use or disclose your medical information and some examples of the types of uses or disclosures below. Not every use or disclosure is covered, but all of the ways that we are allowed to use and disclose information will fall into one of these categories.

Uses and Disclosures of Medical Information That Do Not Require Your Authorization:

We can use or disclose medical information about you regarding your treatment, payment for services or for Hospital operations without your authorization.

For Treatment: To provide you with medical treatment or services, we may need to use or disclose information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students or other Hospital personnel who are involved in your treatment. For example, a doctor may need to know what drugs you are allergic to before prescribing medications. Departments within the Hospital may share medical information about you to coordinate your care. For instance, the laboratory may request information to complete lab work. We may also disclose medical information about you to people who may be involved in your medical care after you leave the Hospital, such as home health agencies, medical equipment companies and family members.

For Payment: We may use and disclose your medical information for the Hospital to bill and receive payment for the treatment that you received here. For example, we may use or disclose your medical information to your insurance company so that your insurance company can pay us or reimburse you for services received at the Hospital. We may also ask your insurance company for prior authorization for a service to determine whether the insurance company will cover it.

For Health Care Operations: We can use and disclose medical information about you for Hospital operations. These include uses and disclosures that are necessary to run the Hospital and make sure that our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use or disclose medical information about you to evaluate our staff's performance in caring for you. Medical information about you and other Hospital patients may also be combined to allow us to evaluate whether the Hospital should offer additional services or discontinue other services and whether certain treatments are effective. We may use or disclose your information for the purpose of coordinating your prescription history from other healthcare providers. We may also compare this information with other hospitals to evaluate whether we can make improvements in the care and services that we offer. To best protect your privacy when we are comparing medical information with that of other hospitals, we will remove information that identifies you.
