Kentucky Bank gift makes ER visits more *BEAR*able for younger SCR patients

Thanks to the generosity of Kentucky Bank, a trip to the emergency room will be a little less stressful and frightening for children.

A significant Kentucky Bank contribution will allow St. Claire Regional Medical Center's Emergency Department to give anxious young patients a nice teddy bear.

The plush bears will come with a "Get well soon!" card.

"Going to the hospital can be pretty scary and overwhelming for a child who doesn't feel well already," said Nick Hammonds, SCR's Director of Critical Care Services. "It's really nice to be able to give them one of these teddy bears to hug and calm their fears."

"The well-being and happiness of our children is one of the most fundamental responsibilities we have as a community leader. Kentucky Bank is proud to provide teddy bears for children who visit the St. Claire emergency room," said Tom James, Kentucky Bank Associate Vice President. "We hope the teddy bears help comfort and bring a smile to the children."

"We appreciate Kentucky Bank's initiative and generosity so much," said St. Claire Foundation Executive Director Tom Lewis. "It's a wonderful example of how businesses can partner with SCR to make our patients' hospital experience even better."

A "Get well soon!" card will be attached to each teddy bear.

UK HealthCare and St. Mary's Medical Center Join Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition

UK HealthCare in Lexington, Ky. and St. Mary's Medical Center in Huntington, W.Va. are now members of the Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition. The two organizations join original members Highlands Regional Medical Center (Prestonsburg, Ky.), Our Lady of Bellefonte Hospital (Ashland, Ky.) and St. Claire Regional Medical Center (Morehead, Ky.) in the coalition.

The mission of the Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition, as written in the organization's mission statement, is to "develop a clinically-integrated network of healthcare providers to enhance the health status of our communities in an accountable and responsible manner." In the coalition, each facility maintains its autonomy while working together on select projects that provide collective efficiencies for the hospitals (such as vendor contracts), improve patient access (through coordinated health events to provide greater patient access while eliminating duplication of efforts) and prepare for the reforms of the Affordable Care Act in addition to other integration.

"UK HealthCare and St. Mary's will make excellent additions to the coalition's efforts to develop a clinically-integrated network of providers to enhance the health status of our communities," said Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition's executive director Jim Fuzy.

"St. Mary's Medical Center is very pleased to become a partner with the Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition," said St. Mary's Medical Center president and CEO Michael Sellards. "As we share a similar mission to enhance the health status of our communities, the coalition will provide opportunities for a more seamless delivery of services to our patients."

"As Kentucky's largest academic medical center focused on providing advanced subspecialty patient care, we at UK HealthCare are committed to improving the health of the people of eastern Kentucky and through our collaboration with other members of the Eastern Kentucky Healthcare Coalition, we will be able to impact and improve the access and quality of care for Kentuckians," said Dr. Michael Karpf, UK executive vice president for Health Affairs.

Highlands Regional Medical Center, Our Lady of Bellefonte Hospital, St. Claire Regional Medical Center, St. Mary's Medical Center and UK HealthCare have a combined 1,783 patient care beds, more than 14,400 employees and 1,780 physicians.

ST. CLAIRE REGIONAL ESTABLISHES NEW DOCTOR OF OSTEOPATHIC FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCY PROGRAM IN MOREHEAD, KY

In an effort to help meet the national demand for primary care physicians and expand access to primary care services in underserved communities, Greg Bausch, PharmD, VP/COO of the St. Claire Medical Group, announced the establishment of the new doctor of osteopathic (DO) family medicine residency program in conjunction with the University of Pikeville and supported by the Affordable Care Act - Teaching Health Center Graduate Medical Education (THCGME) Program grant. Under the leadership of Twana Hatton, DO, Program Director, this new residency program begins in July of 2013 with two resident physicians who will train at the St. Claire Regional Family Medicine location in Sandy Hook, Ky.

“We are excited about the establishment of the new osteopathic family medicine residency program to be based in St. Claire Regional’s Family Medicine practice. Family physicians serve a unique role in the delivery of primary care and can take care of most problems affecting patients from infancy through old age, This included the entire family; from mother and child through their grandparents,” says Bausch.

“St. Claire Regional is very proud to be able to host an osteopathic family medicine residency program that will benefit many patients particularly in the communities that need our services. Primary care initiatives are an important aspect of health reform and we look forward to training the next generation of family medicine doctors,” says Hatton.

The St. Claire Regional Family Medicine Osteopathic Residency Program is excited to welcome our two new doctor of osteopathy residents: Parker Banks, DO, and Chadwick “Chad” Gambrell, DO.

Parker Bank, DO

Chadwick Gambrell, DO

Dr. Banks graduated in May, 2013 from the University of Pikeville, Kentucky College of Osteopathic Medicine. He was born right here at St. Claire Regional and grew up in West Liberty. He completed his undergraduate education at Morehead State University. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, farming, cooking, Nascar and UK basketball. We also want to congratulate Dr. Banks on his upcoming June marriage.

Dr. Gambrell graduated from Lincoln Memorial University-DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine, located in Harrogate, Tennessee. He grew up in Pineville, Kentucky and attended the University of Kentucky as an undergraduate. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, and spending quality time with his wife Chassidy and their two daughters; Ava, age 6 and Emery, age 16 months.

ABOUT OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS: Osteopathic physicians practice a “whole person” approach to medicine. Instead of just treating for specific symptoms or illnesses, they regard the body as an integrated whole. Osteopathic physicians focus on preventive health care and receive extra training in the musculoskeletal system—your body’s interconnected system of nerves, muscles and bones that makes up two-thirds of your body mass. This training provides osteopathic physicians with a better understanding of how an illness or injury in one part of your body can affect other parts. They are licensed by the Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure as fully practicing physicians, with all the rights and responsibilities as their MD colleagues.

Fun with Food

at St. Claire Regional Outpatient Center

Will your child only eat a limited number of foods?

Do mealtimes feel like a battle number of foods?

Does your child resist trying new foods, textures or tastes?

If you answered yes to any of the above, join the Fun with Food Group. The Fun with Food group meets weekly for one hour. Each group will have four children with two pediatric occupational therapists leading the group. The group uses a social, non-threatening approach to help children feel more comfortable with exploring new foods and their color, shape, texture, smell, taste and consistency.

To benefit from the group, children need to:

- Be medically stable
- Demonstrate an interest in their peers
- Have limited foods in their current diet
- Refuse foods or struggle with new textures or tastes

The Fun with Food Group meets weekly for one hour at the St. Claire Regional Outpatient Center

Toddler Group: Thursday 11:00 a.m. to Noon

School-Aged Group: Tuesday 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

For more information or to sign your child up for Fun with Food, please contact the SCR Occupational Therapy Department at (606) 783-6919

One Night: About You – Free women’s health conference

St. Claire Regional and UK HealthCare hosted its first health conference for women, One Night: About You, on Friday, May 17 at the Morehead Conference Center. There were over a hundred women from Morehead and surrounding counties who attended this free event. These women enjoyed an evening of fun and free prizes while having vital health screenings, learning more about women’s health specific issues and discovering fun ways to remain healthy.

Many of the participants took the time to thank everyone involved with the event for all of their hard work. “The event was so nice and I had a great time. I can’t thank you enough for doing an event like this as I learned a lot about taking care of my health. I hope you do it again next year,” said one of the participants.

Mary Horsely, RN, provides blood pressure checks at the free health screening of the event.

Over 100 women participated in the One Night, About You event.

A special thanks to the following people who worked so very hard to make the event so much fun and a huge success: Dr. Kimberly Williams, SCR’s VP of Special Projects for giving an awesome keynote message about the best way to cope with stress; SCR Cardiologist, Nowwar G. Mustafa, MD, UK OB/GYN, Rebecca Todd, MD, SCR’s Occupational Therapist, Morgan King and SCR’s Physical Therapist, Kerry Muldowney for providing the women’s health content for the breakout sessions; Laura White, Rowan County’s UK Cooperative Extension agent for demonstrating how to make some healthy snacks and providing free cooking utensils and healthy recipes; all of the SCR clinical staff who provided free health screenings; Rowan Unite and the Gateway Health Department for setting up educational tables; Carry Brown, IT Works, SCR Gift Shop and Melody Hoff, Massage Therapist for donating door prizes.

Dr. Kim Williams discussed her presentation on managing stress at the One Night, About You event.

Congratulations Lisa Wallace, RN
