Impressive Gathering in Kentucky Sets Foundation for Triangular Relationship

On Tuesday, November 27th, leaders from more than a dozen academic and international organizations held a one day symposium at the University of Kentucky to discuss the critical issues of healthcare development, the widening gaps in human resources, scientific, and medical knowledge prevailing in Africa.

Participating in this landmark symposium included Dr. Tedros Ghebreyesus, Ethiopia's Minister of Health, who is now the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Eli Capilouto, DMD, Sc.D., President, University of Kentucky, Ambassador David Shinn, PhD former U.S. Ambassador to Ethiopia as well as high-level administrators and officials from the Republic of Liberia, Mayo Clinic, USAID, Albert Einstein School of Medicine, East Carolina University, George Washington University, Stanford University School of Medicine, Temple University School of Medicine, University of Kentucky College of Medicine, University of Michigan, University of Wisconsin, West Virginia School of Medicine as well as representatives from the global non-profit organization, People to People, led by its Founder and President, Dr. Enawgaw Mehari.

The symposium, hosted on the grounds of the University of Kentucky Hospital, brought together academicians and clinicians both from the African Diaspora and non-Diaspora, to explore global partnerships focused on narrowing the knowledge gap and improving the global imbalance of healthcare and manpower development. Participants also discussed ideas for twinning and tele-medicine initiatives, international exchange programs involving students, faculty and program administrators, as well as case-based exchanges and e-mentoring. To stimulate the dialogue on these important issues, the University of Kentucky joined with People to People to organize and conduct this first symposium on medical education and global healthcare.

At the end of the full day symposium, participants affirmed their commitment to nurture and develop partnerships based on a triangular relationship. The triangular relationship involves P2P as an institution in charge of mobilizing and coordinating Diaspora resources, the US universities which are pools of medical and scientific knowledge and African Medical Institutions as beneficiaries of capacity building support.

AMBULATORY SURGERY

Dr. Cox and staff excellent. Thanks for the overall professionalism.

Dr. Cox pre op staff anesthesiologist were an very professional team.

Transportation person Scott Miller was very helpful to family.

EMERGENCY DEPT.

Dr. Kimberly Williams was my doctor that night she is a very good doctor.

Kimberly H. Sergion was good about telling my husband stuff.

MEDICAL PRACTICE

Kim is wonderful. Always ready to help.

My family and I have been seeing Leslie Stamper for years. She is wonderful.

Very patient and takes the time to explain things.

INPATIENT

Dr. Sanders was very thorough and got me on medications promptly to take care of my medical needs.

I have never been treated at any other hospital as well as St. Claire Regional.

Nurses were outstanding in taking care of my needs. I would recommend St.

Claire Regional to all my family and friends. I want to thank especially Rhonda Ramey for her outstanding efforts. She is surely an outstanding employee of St. Claire Regional.

Dr. Cherian, and Dr. Conley were great. Dr. Harrison was also extremely helpful and concerned.

Again, let me compliment my awesome midwife, Franny Meritt, for being amazing. The entire maternity nursing staff, Dr. Cherian, Dr. Harrison, Dr. Conley are just amazing. Thank you!

Autumn was terrific!

I just love Dr. Birdwhistell and I think he is a excellent doctor.

Dr. Colbert and all the 4th floor staff were outstanding.

HOME HEALTH

Ethel Burchett, RN is a very good nurse. Always friendly and helpful.

Leah-Ann Owens, RN was a great nurse, she really knows how to truly give great advice.

Kathy Howard, RN is a very caring and competent nurse.

Carolyn Gilliam, HHA was excellent.

2 PT's were great, Tim Jones, PTA & Johnny Napier, PT

Kathy Howard, RN is a wonderful person/helpful.
