

THE CENTER FOR HEALTH, EDUCATION AND RESEARCH (CHER) RECEIVES MOREHEAD CHAMBER – COMMUNITY PARTNERS AWARD

The opening of the new Center for Health, Education and Research represents the culmination of over ten years of effort on behalf of a number of individuals and the fulfillment of a dream. A dream where students from across the region could be trained in a new state-of-the-art facility for an expanded variety of careers in healthcare. Where students and residents would train side by side and care for patients in a modern family medicine facility. And where research on the causes of chronic diseases in Eastern Kentucky can be evaluated and innovative solutions proposed.

This new $30 million, 90,000 square foot facility is proof that success will follow where proper collaboration occurs. Located on the campus of St. Claire Regional Medical Center and constructed on land provided by St. Claire Regional, the facility is owned by the Commonwealth of Kentucky and managed by Morehead State University. The new Center will be operated as a partnership of the three institutional entities. A first where a regional university, a land grant university and a private non-profit corporation have so cooperated.

The initial planning monies for the partnership were received through the efforts of Congressman Hal Rogers. These monies were followed by $1.5 million in state appropriations, to continue this planning process, and ultimately by $23 million in additional state appropriations for construction of the facility itself. An additional $1.5 million for the project was provided by the US Economic Development Administration in recognition of the significant financial impact that the Center will have on the local economy. We are very much indebted to our local legislators for their untiring efforts on our behalf to make this dream a reality. Of particular note are Representative Rocky Adkins, Representative John Will Stacy and Senator Walter Blevins.

The CHER building was completed this spring and the St. Claire Regional Family Medicine – Morehead location opened on May 17th.

ST. CLAIRE REGIONAL'S "MURDER ON MAUI": A PICTURE STORY

Article By: Tom Lewis

Photos by Mac Luckey and Tom Lewis

The St. Claire Foundation's third-annual Mystery Dinner Theater, "Murder on Maui," drew 140 amateur sleuths for an evening of fun, food and mayhem.

"It was our largest crowd and we raised nearly $11,000 to assist St. Claire Regional in establishing a state-of-the-art Women's Imaging Center, complete with digital mammography and a stereotactic biopsy table," said Tom Lewis, SCR Director of Development.

Guests were greeted by hula girls, who graciously draped Hawaiian leis around their necks and invited them to sample some of the island's traditional – and not so traditional – foods. Guests interacted with the cast members throughout the evening, attempting to uncover clues leading to the identity of the murderer.

"It was just a fun evening for all involved," said Susette Redwine, chair of the Foundation's Signature Event Committee, which staged the event.
