CERTIFIED NURSES DAY™

A Day to Recognize Certified Nurses

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 2018

Submitted by: McKenna Spence

National Certified Nurses Day™ is observed every March 19. This national day of recognition honors the important achievement of nursing specialty, subspecialty and advanced practice certification – and provides a perfect opportunity to acknowledge and thank certified nurses for their hard work, dedication and commitment to excellence. They are very dedicated to helping others and often work long and hard hours. Everyday lives are affected because of the care of certified nurses.

Professional certification in nursing is a measure of distinctive nursing practice. Certification in nursing represents an example of professional credentialing and is a voluntary process undertaken by practicing nurses. This process validates knowledge, skills and abilities beyond the scope of RN licensure. According to the American Board of Nursing Specialties, “specialty-nursing certification is considered THE standard by which the public recognizes quality of nursing care. In the world of nursing, as we nurses know, it is the hallmark by which a nursing expert is recognized in their chosen field!”

St. Claire HealthCare supports nursing certification by reimbursing nurses for the cost of the examination. SCH also assists with paying for review courses and certification study course materials prior to the exam.

If you are currently certified, congratulations! If you are not certified, then please consider attaining this important milestone in your career. The journey to certification is a pathway to increased knowledge, growth and development.
