SCH Staff Receive Recognition with Spirit of St. Claire Award

Submitted by McKenna Spence

Congratulations to Rebecca Downs, LPN (left), and Stacey Triplett, RT, ROC, ARDMS (right), who recently received the Spirit of St. Claire Award. Thank you for all that you do and for representing what we consider to be the Spirit of St. Claire.

Rebecca Downs – LPN

For a lot of people the hospital represents something bad, that either you or someone you know is sick and in need of medical intervention. This was true for one of our patients at St. Claire Family Medicine in Owingsville, where a regular office visit turned into a gateway for a hospital admission.

After the patient learned that he needed to be seen in the Emergency Department for additional testing, he was wrapped in fear and totally resistant to the idea and unfamiliarity of it all. But, in this moment Rebecca Downs, who the patient identifies as HIS nurse, stepped up to the plate. Not only did she work diligently to calm his fears and convince him of the importance but she actually drove to Morehead and accompanied him during his ER visit. Rebecca's actions demonstrated her commitment and compassion which are the core values of our organization.

Stacy Triplett – RT, ROC, ARDMS

Getting an ultrasound can cause anxiety, especially for children, as you must remain still throughout the exam. Even more for our patients with congenital anomalies who are receiving ultrasounds on the heart. Stacey not only consistently performs quality examinations but she works diligently to treat patients with dignity and respect while also calming fears and keeping them relaxed for the duration of the exam.

Patients, family members, and providers alike have commended Stacey on her commitment to consistent quality exams and excellent customer service. One provider even noted that she feels Stacey is one of the best in the state in regards to pediatric echocardiograms. We recognize Stacey as a glowing example of commitment and quality which are the foundation of what we do.

Have you witnessed a staff member or volunteer going above and beyond to care for our patients and visitors?

You can nominate them for a Spirit of St. Claire Award by completing the online nomination form at schstaff.org or by emailing patientexperience@st-claire.org.
