During Pregnancy and After Birth: Learn the Signs of Depression and Anxiety

You may be the first to see signs of depression and anxiety in your loved one while she is pregnant and after she has had the baby. Learn to recognize the signs and, if you do see them, urge her to talk with her health care provider.

DOES SHE:

Seem to get extremely anxious, sad, or angry without warning?

Seem foggy and have trouble completing tasks?

Show little interest in things she used to enjoy?

Seem "robotic," like she is just going through the motions?

DO YOU:

Notice she has trouble sleeping?

Notice she checks things and performs tasks repeatedly?

Get concerned she cannot care for herself or the baby?

Think she might hurt herself or the baby?

Depression and Anxiety Happen. Getting Help Matters.

To learn more, visit nichd.nih.gov/MaternalMentalHealth.

Talk About Depression and Anxiety During Pregnancy and After Birth

Ways You Can Help

Pregnancy and a new baby can bring a mix of emotions—excitement and joy, but also sadness and feeling overwhelmed. When these feelings get in the way of your loved one taking care of herself or the baby—that could be a sign that she’s dealing with deeper feelings of depression or anxiety, feelings that many pregnant women and new moms experience.

LISTEN

Open the line of communication.

- ♦ “I know everyone is focused on the baby, but I want to hear about you.”
- ♦ “I notice you are having trouble sleeping, even when the baby sleeps. What’s on your mind?”
- ♦ “I know a new baby is stressful, but I’m worried about you. You don’t seem like yourself. Tell me how you are feeling.”
- ♦ “I really want to know how you’re feeling, and I will listen to you.”

OFFER SUPPORT

Let her know that she’s not alone and you are here to help.

- ♦ “Can I watch the baby while you get some rest or go see your friends?”
- ♦ “How can I help? I can take on more around the house like making meals, cleaning, or going grocery shopping.”
- ♦ “I am here for you no matter what. Let’s schedule some alone time together, just you and me.”

OFFER TO HELP

Ask her to let you help her reach out for assistance.

- ♦ “Let’s go online and see what kind of information we can find out about this.” Visit nichd.nih.gov/MaternalMentalHealth to learn more.
- ♦ “Would you like me to make an appointment so you can talk with someone?” Call her health care provider or the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration’s National Helpline at 1-800-662-HELP (4357) for 24-hour free and confidential mental health information, treatment, and recovery services referral in English and Spanish.
- ♦ “I’m very concerned about you.” Call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK (8255) for free and confidential emotional support—they talk about more than suicide.

Action Plan for Depression and Anxiety Around Pregnancy

Having a baby brings a mix of emotions, including feeling sad and feeling overwhelmed. Many women experience deeper signs of depression and anxiety before and after birth. Be prepared. Watch for the signs.

If you...

- Feel like you just aren't yourself
- Have trouble managing your emotions
- Feel overwhelmed but are still able to care for yourself and your baby

You may be experiencing mood swings that happen to many pregnant women and new moms.

These feelings typically go away after a couple of weeks.

- Take special care of yourself. Get your partner to watch the baby, get a babysitter, or team up with another mom to share child care so that you can rest and exercise.
- Continue to watch for the signs of depression and anxiety in the yellow and red sections below. If things get worse, find someone to talk to. Talk to a health care provider if you feel unsure.

If you...

- Have feelings of intense anxiety that hit with no warning
- Feel foggy and have difficulty completing tasks
- Feel "robotic," like you are just going through the motions
- Have little interest in things that you used to enjoy
- Feel very anxious around the baby and your other children
- Have scary, upsetting thoughts that don't go away
- Feel guilty and feel like you are failing at motherhood

You may be experiencing postpartum depression and anxiety.

These feelings will not go away on their own.

- Get help. Contact your health care provider or visit a clinic.
- Call Postpartum Support International at 1-800-944-4PPD (4773) to speak to a volunteer who can provide support and resources in your area.
- Talk to your partner, family, and friends about these feelings so they can help you.

If you...

- Feel hopeless and total despair
- Feel out of touch with reality (you may see or hear things that other people don't)
- Feel that you may hurt yourself or your baby

Get help now!

- Call 9-1-1 for immediate help.
- Call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK (8255) for free and confidential emotional support—they talk about more than suicide.
- Call the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's National Helpline at 1-800-662-HELP (4357) for 24-hour free and confidential mental health information, treatment, and recovery services referral in English and Spanish.

What Does A Safe Sleep Environment Look Like?

The image below shows a safe infant sleep environment.

Baby's sleep area is in the same room, next to where parents sleep.

Use a firm and flat sleep surface, such as a mattress in a safety-approved crib*, covered by a fitted sheet.

Baby should not sleep in an adult bed, on a couch, or on a chair alone, with you, or with anyone else.

Do not smoke or let anyone else smoke around your baby.

Do not put pillows, blankets, sheepskins, or crib bumpers anywhere in your baby's sleep area.

Keep soft objects, toys, and loose bedding out of your baby's sleep area. Make sure nothing covers the baby's head.

Dress your baby in sleep clothing, such as a wearable blanket. Do not use a loose blanket, and do not overbundle.

Always place your baby on his or her back to sleep, for naps and at night.

Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development

* A crib, bassinet, portable crib, or play yard that follows the safety standards of the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is recommended. For information on crib safety, contact the CPSC at 1-800-638-2772 or <http://www.cpsc.gov>.

Safe Sleep For Your Baby

Reduce the Risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) and Other Sleep-Related Causes of Infant Death

-  Always place baby on his or her back to sleep, for naps and at night, to reduce the risk of SIDS.
-  Use a firm and flat sleep surface, such as a mattress in a safety-approved crib*, covered by a fitted sheet with no other bedding or soft items in the sleep area.
-  Share your room with baby. Keep baby in your room close to your bed, but on a separate surface designed for infants, ideally for baby's first year, but at least for the first 6 months.
-  Do not put soft objects, toys, crib bumpers, or loose bedding under baby, over baby, or anywhere in baby's sleep area.

To reduce the risk of SIDS, women should:

-  Get regular prenatal care during pregnancy.
-  Avoid smoking, drinking alcohol, and using marijuana or illegal drugs during pregnancy or after the baby is born.
-  Do not smoke during pregnancy, and do not smoke or allow smoking around your baby or in your baby's environment.
-  Think about giving your baby a pacifier for naps and nighttime sleep to reduce the risk of SIDS. Wait until breastfeeding is well established (often by 3 to 4 weeks) before offering a pacifier.
-  Do not let your baby get too hot during sleep.

 Breastfeed your baby to reduce the risk of SIDS. Breastfeeding has many health benefits for mother and baby. If you fall asleep while feeding or comforting baby in an adult bed, place him or her back in a separate sleep area as soon as you wake up.

-  Follow guidance from your health care provider on your baby's vaccines and regular health checkups.
-  Avoid products that go against safe sleep recommendations, especially those that claim to prevent or reduce the risk for SIDS.
-  Do not use heart or breathing monitors in the home to reduce the risk of SIDS.
-  Give your baby plenty of tummy time when he or she is awake and someone is watching.

* A crib, bassinet, portable crib, or play yard that follows the safety standards of the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is recommended. For information on crib safety, contact the CPSC at 1-800-638-2772 or <http://www.cpsc.gov>.

Shaken Baby Syndrome

Never Shake A Baby – Tips for Parents and Caregivers

Approximately 1,200 to 1,400 children are injured or killed by shaking a baby every year in the United States.* Most of these people could never imagine harming their baby – it was an instantaneous reaction to frustration. Caregivers must be educated about Shaken Baby Syndrome (SBS).

- Although it may happen out of frustration, shaking a baby vigorously is a serious form of child abuse.
- A single shaking episode can result in death or other severe injuries such as mental retardation, speech and learning disabilities, cerebral palsy, seizure disorder, hearing loss, partial or total blindness, behavior disorders, cognitive impairment, spinal cord injury, paralysis, broken bones and dislocations.
- Caring for a baby can be difficult and frustrating. Babies cry for many reasons including:
 - Hunger
 - Need to be burped
 - Need diaper change
 - Too hot or too cold
 - Fever or pain from earache, teething, rash, or insect bite
 - Need to be held or soothed
 - Overtired
 - Over stimulated
 - Sometimes babies just need to cry!
- If you are frustrated, gently place baby in his or her crib and go to another room for a few minutes until you calm down. Take several deep breaths, count to 100, listen to soft music, exercise, do household chores, or go for a walk (do not leave baby home alone).
- Caregivers must be educated about Shaken Baby Syndrome. Make sure they understand the dangers of shaking a baby. Provide them with the number for an alternate caregiver who can help. Also available is the Child Help USA Hotline 1-800-4-A-CHILD. Caregivers can speak to a counselor during stressful times through this free, confidential hotline.
- Reassure your caregiver and make them feel comfortable that it is OK to call you at work if baby is inconsolable.

How to Calm A Crying Baby

Babies communicate by crying

Step # 1: Try to figure out what is upsetting the baby

Make sure your baby:

- Is not hungry or doesn't need to burp
- Has a dry diaper
- Is in comfortable clothing
- Is not too hot or too cold
- Is not overtired or overstimulated by playing, noise, or bright lights
- Is not sick or does not have a fever
- Is not in pain

A tight swaddle can help your baby relax

Step # 2: Try to help the baby relax

- Turn down the lights
- Wrap or swaddle the baby securely
- Rock the baby gently
- Offer the breast, a bottle, or a pacifier
- Walk with your baby
- Play some calm music
- Shhh, whisper, sing, or talk quietly to the baby
- Run the vacuum cleaner
- Take your baby for a ride in a stroller or in a car

Always keep your baby safe

Step # 3: Keep your baby safe

Sometimes babies cry even after all of these steps are taken. Do not take this personally. Every caregiver needs a plan to deal with a crying baby. If you feel overwhelmed, frustrated, angry, or out of control, then:

- Stop
- Take a deep breath and count to 10
- Place your baby in a safe place, such as a crib or playpen
- Leave the room and shut the door
- Find a quiet place for yourself and take a time out
- Check on your baby every 5-15 minutes
- If you are calm and in control you can repeat step #1 and #2
- Do not be afraid to ask for help

Asking for Help

Keeping your baby safe and asking for help are signs of a good parent. Stop, take time out, and call for help you can:

- Call a friend, relative, or neighbor for support and advice
- Ask another adult to take care of your baby while you take a break
- Call a crisis hotline (1-800-4-A-CHILD)
- Call your health care provider
