

Robert L. Johnson, M.D., Internal Medicine

Medical School:	University of Missouri Kansas City School of Medicine
Higher education:	University of Missouri Kansas City (Go Roos!) – Biology
Hometown:	Camdenton, Missouri
Medical practice interests:	Global/underserved Health through combined fellowship in Infectious Disease and Critical Care Medicine (for now... I love everything so that might change.)
Recreational activities/hobbies:	Avid coffee enthusiast (admittedly mostly as a consumer than anything else), explorer of Amazon (Prime, that is, but I would like to visit Brazil someday), attempted play of sports, dabbler of the arts, and fair-weather reader (as in, I only read for fun when I am not drowning in the tempest of medical Literature.