

Profile

Dr. Seshadri Iyengar a freelance, Bharatnatyam artist, a yoga Practitioner and a Graduate of Homoeopathic Science (Homoeopathic Physician) is based in Bangalore. Proud to be in the Lineage of the Vazhuvoor bani, he has had 4 decades of performing and teaching experience. He has established the Iyengar Centre of Fine Arts which believes in creative learning, spiritual science, entertainment and interaction. He continues to train several students locally and internationally. He is often invited for Master Classes/workshops and mentorship programs. As the Artistic Director of the Iyengar Centre for Fine Arts, in Malleshwaram, Bangalore; he hosts monthly chamber concert and workshops; a space that offers a two-way learning between the Artist/scholars and the rasikas.

He is an empanelled artist with the Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR). He is the recipient of The Ramgopal award for Male dancer in the year 2019.

He has travelled internationally and has collaborated with several dance companies and yoga centres. He has been featured in some award-winning productions and has had the privileged of working alongside many dance artists, film personalities and directors of repute. Body Kinetics a holistic fitness module developed by himself, connects the technique (the dance form) with the medium (the dancer) by addressing the breath, the mind and the self and the Physical body.

Last but not the least he strongly believes; dance is beyond form and gender.
