

The Mill House.

WELCOME TO The Mill House Inn @ Trebarwith Strand

A Secluded Country Inn Close to the North Cornish Coast

With parts of the Mill house reported to date from the mid 18th century there is charm and quality aplenty for this popular Cornish venue. The current owners are looking to come out of the trade after owning, extending and improving the business over the past 14 years and great opportunity exists to build on their good works.

The property is detached and mainly two storey with a separate cottage used as part of the letting accommodation. There is a welcoming bar and dining room, resident reception and impressive function suite/additional restaurant completed in 2008. The inn sits within its own wooded valley of over 6 acres which could provide significant opportunity for further lettings by way of luxury lodges (subject to the usual consents).

The Inn has been included within Alastair Sawday's Special Places guide, the good pub guide and featured in the Sunday Telegraph in January 2018 as one of the top 25 most dog friendly pubs in the U.K.
