Frequently Asked Questions:

What kind of information does Beam collect?

We collect information (such as your name, email address, mailing address, and phone numbers) that you provide when you save your information with us or participate in making bookings, a contest, promotion or survey. We also maintain a record of your interests such as geographic areas and accommodation types. We may acquire customer names, email addresses and mailing addresses for select mailings from third parties.

How does Beam use my information?

When you make an online booking on Beam, we use your information to process your booking. We may also send you emails to confirm your booking, and we may need to contact you via phone or email if we have other questions regarding your booking. When you register yourself or your friends with our website or mobile application, we use your information to send you and your friends, news and events relating to other entertaining activities in the areas or entertainment events you selected. In addition, we may combine information you provide with demographic information that is publicly available around the area you have selected. We use this combined information to enhance and personalize your online experience with us, and to communicate with you by email about our products, services, contests, and promotions that may be of interest to you. If you do not want us to use your information as described above, please contact Beam customer service via email or call us on +27 (66) 137 6159.

Does Beam share my information with third parties?

We may contract with third parties to assist us in maintaining and managing our customer information to fulfil promotions and to communicate with promoters, customers or record labels. We do not authorize any of those third parties to make any other use of your information. In addition, when we team up with another company to offer or provide products, services, contests or promotions, we and the other company may cross-reference our customer databases to identify common customers, promoters or musical artists.

We and the other company may use that existing information to identify future promotional opportunities and to fulfil promotional or contractual obligations. When we offer contests and promotions, or join with other companies to do so, customers who choose to participate in those contests and promotions may be asked to provide personal information to participate. This information may then be used by us, and any company offering the contest or promotion, to notify winners or to fulfil promotional obligations.

If prior to participating in a contest or promotion, you opted not to receive information from us, you may still receive information from or about Beam in connection with the contest or promotion if you choose to participate in it. You may opt not to participate in these contests or promotions if you do not want to receive information about Beam or share your information with us and the other companies sponsoring those contests or promotions. We also may share aggregate, non-personally identifiable information about you (such as age, gender, and interests) with our business partners to fulfil our contractual obligations. Except as described above, we do not share, rent or sell any information we collect online to any unaffiliated third party.

How do I remove my information from email, phone, and postal mailing lists?

We want to communicate with you only if you want to hear from us. If you prefer not to receive information from us, either through email or by phone, please let us know by sending us an email. Please note that such requests may take up to six to eight weeks to become effective.

In addition, if you ask us to remove your name and address from our email mailing lists, we will maintain your name in a "do not mail" file to ensure that we can honour your request. Please also note that when you make a booking on the Beam website or mobile application, we will send you emails to confirm your booking and may also need to contact you via phone or email if we have other questions regarding your booking.
