Hello, Little Counter!

Tonight, Zara and Nani will count the night sky with you.

Meet Zara

Hi! I am Zara. Tonight, we are going to count stars together.

Meet Nani

Count slowly. Point carefully. Every number can feel like magic.

A Note for Grown-Ups

How to read this book

This story teaches numbers 1 to 20 through one cozy bedtime adventure, not drills or flashcards.

At every Count With Me page, pause and let the child point to each object. Count out loud together. Celebrate every number.

Children learn best when learning feels like play, wonder, and love. That is what Zara and Nani are here to give.

Our Counting Journey

Count 1 moon, then 20 dream stars. Ready?

Number 1 - Moon

Story Moment

STORY TIME

Zara pressed her nose against the cold window. Outside, the whole sky was dark and quiet. "Nani, I cannot sleep," she whispered. Nani sat down beside her. "Then let us count." Zara looked up and found one glowing moon.

Count With Me

COUNT WITH ME

How many moons can you see?
Point to each one and count out loud: 1 ... 1.
Did you find all 1? Amazing counting!

NUMBER MOMENT

Two

Did You Know?

You have 2 eyes, perfect for finding tiny things in the night sky.

Number 2 - Zara's Eyes

Story Moment

STORY TIME

Nani handed Zara a small paper telescope.
"What do you use to see stars?" asked Nani.
Zara thought hard, then giggled.
"My eyes! I have two of them!"
She opened them as wide as she could.

NUMBER MOMENT

Three

Did You Know?

Shooting stars are tiny space rocks burning as they fall through the air.

Count each star slowly

Number 3 - Shooting Stars

Story Moment

STORY TIME

Suddenly - whoosh! A bright line crossed the sky.
"Nani! A shooting star!" Zara gasped.
Then another whooshed past.
And then one more streaked across the night.
"Three!" Zara shouted, holding Nani's hand.
