Dedication

For every child learning that kindness can be brave.

Core message

Saying sorry first takes courage - and it can bring friends back together.

Scene 1

The Back-Turned Day

Arjun and Kabir were best friends. They knew each other's jokes, games, and snack secrets. But today, both boys stood with their backs turned. Neither wanted to look first.

Little lesson

Even best friends can have hard moments.

Scene 2

Before the Fight

Before the argument, everything was easy. The ball went left, Kabir ran. The ball went right, Arjun laughed. Together, even ordinary games felt like magic.

Little lesson

Friendship makes small things feel big and bright.

Scene 3

The Pull

Then they reached for the same toy. 'I had it first!' Arjun said. 'No, I did!' Kabir pulled. The toy stayed between them, and so did stubbornness.

Little lesson

When nobody lets go, a tiny problem can grow.

Scene 4

Too Many Big Words

Their voices grew bigger than their hearts. Fingers pointed. Faces became hot. The words came out fast, and neither boy could catch them back.

Little lesson

Angry words can run faster than we mean them to.

Scene 5

Opposite Ways

Arjun went one way. Kabir went the other. The playground was still sunny, but suddenly it felt quiet and far apart.

Little lesson

Distance can happen even when two friends are close by.
