

Futures Wheel

The implications wheel helps you explore the positive and negative consequences of each scenario, revealing what might be desirable or undesirable for your city.

This diagram visualizes a ripple effect — the center is your main scenario, and the surrounding bubbles are cascading consequences of the central impact.

Instructions:

1. Place one scenario at the centre of your wheel.
2. Brainstorm first-order implications — the direct consequences this future could have for your city, your work, or your residents.
3. Expand to second- and third-order implications - the consequences of those consequences.
4. Repeat for all scenarios you have created.
5. Label each implication as desirable or undesirable, and discuss why.
