Gede Apriana

Student at Udayana University (UNUD)
Denpasar, Bali, Indonesia

Ringkasan

My name is I Komang Gede Apriana. Ever since my time in high school, I've found a profound interest in the realm of computers, with a specific focus on computer network engineering. Presently, I am fully engaged as a cohort in Dicoding, Frontend Backend program, enriching my skills and knowledge in this dynamic field. Alongside this, I am pursuing a degree in informatics at Udayana University, where I continue to explore and deepen my understanding of the vast world of computer science.
