

Thinking about moving mobile supplier?

Key considerations to take into account before making a change

Your mobile devices, and your airtime agreement are a core part of your business' ability to communicate. Get it wrong and you could end up paying more than necessary, or damaging the productivity of your employees. So, we have put together some of the key considerations we believe businesses should take before making a switch.

What are your data allowances?

Are there spikes in data that are pushing your devices close to their limits?

How old is your handset estate?

Are you on the most appropriate mobile plan for your business requirements?

Is your device protected from potential cyber-attacks, malware, and viruses?

Which environments do you use your mobile phone in?

Do you need to consider cases, screen protectors to ensure your phone can withstand harsher conditions?

Are you using the most up to date operating system and software?

Do your teams make international calls?

What handsets do you use, Apple/Android?

Do you have a management platform?

Do you need to update old/damaged devices?

Do they normally roam outside the UK?
