Summer in Hokkaido is a veritable eden of culinary delights, exquisite experiences and endless adventures. The snow melts and the landscape is transformed in what seems like an instant from winter white to lush, saturated green. This is your playground. This is where you can make your dreams come true.

Hokkaido revolves around food during the summer months. The fertile farmlands and bountiful seas are responsible for some of the most delectable produce in Japan. Marry this spectacular fare with the best culinary minds from around the world and you get sizzling results.
