FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (Philadelphia, PA, August 7, 2023) —The Kimmel Cultural Campus and The Philadelphia Orchestra, the region’s premier center for multi-disciplinary performing arts and cultural events, announces its 2023–2024 season, welcoming audiences back to experience the magic of live art. With over 2,000 events annually across multiple venues, the lineup features everything from orchestral music to Broadway, jazz to comedy, contemporary dance to ballet, opera to rock, and much more.

“We are writing the exciting next chapter of the performing arts in Philadelphia, providing artistic experiences that build bridges and create a sense of community,” said Matías Tarnopolsky, president and CEO of The Philadelphia Orchestra and Kimmel Center, Inc. “A new season means new opportunities to share the transformative power of live performance, educational events, free community partnerships, and more. We look forward to welcoming audiences throughout this wonderful season.”

First, celebrate the start of a new season of the arts on Saturday, September 23, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., with the 3rd annual FREE Philadelphia Fall Arts Fest. Featuring a diverse sampling of festival-style performances on multiple stages, this event brings together 50+ diverse arts organizations from around the region to shine a spotlight on the rich arts and culture scene in the Philadelphia area. The event will culminate in a free performance from The Philadelphia Orchestra; tickets to this finale will be made available in August. Guests are encouraged to check our website for updates.

Plus, Philadelphia Fall Arts Fest marks the first public viewing of the innovative, ergonomically designed Maene-Viñoly Concert Grand Piano. In a fitting homage to the late musician-architect Rafael Viñoly, the piano will be on display for the public to enjoy in the very building that he designed, the Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts. In partnership with Rafael Viñoly Architects, the special exhibition marks the piano’s first appearance in the United States. Arts organizations interested in participating in Philadelphia Fall Arts Fest are encouraged to visit our website to sign up and participate.

The Philadelphia Orchestra

The GRAMMY® Award–winning Philadelphia Orchestra and Music and Artistic Director Yannick Nézet-Séguin announced a musical journey of discovery, beauty, and inspiration. From suggesting a new perspective on the 20th-century American orchestral sound, to a more inclusive idea of composition in the 21st century, the season is imbued with Nézet-Séguin’s singular sense of joy, curiosity, and exploration.

Nézet-Séguin will open the 2023–24 season – his 12th with the Orchestra – on September 28 with a special program featuring Yo-Yo Ma performing Shostakovich’s Cello Concerto No. 1. The Opening Night Celebration is one of three appearances by Yo-Yo Ma throughout the season. Nézet-Séguin will lead the Orchestra in four world premieres, all of which were either commissioned or co-commissioned by The Philadelphia Orchestra: Brazilian-American composer Clarice Assad’s new concerto for Principal Bassoon Daniel Matsukawa (October 12 – 14, 2023); Argentinean composer Esteban Benzecry’s MUYUY, The circle of life, (December 7 – 10, 2023); GRAMMY® Award–winning composer Mason Bates’s Violin Concerto No. 2 with Gil Shaham (January 26 – 28, 2024); and Valerie Coleman’s Concerto for Orchestra, her fourth commission for the ensemble (May 30 – June 2, 2024).

The Orchestra will continue to highlight women artists throughout the season. Written in response to a changed world, Reena Esmail’s ReMember honors the experience of coming back together after time apart during the pandemic. Evocative and powerful, the piece is meant to feel like an overture, with inspiration from Mozart’s The Marriage of Figaro and Bernstein’s Candide (November 17 – 18, 2023). The season also includes a co-commissioned work by Pulitzer Prize–winning composer Du Yun. Her new Pipa Concerto will be performed by Wu Man in its world premiere, led by Anna Sułkowska-Migoń in her Philadelphia Orchestra debut (January 11 and 13, 2024).

Fabio Luisi will conduct Orff’s monumental portrait of life, Carmina burana (March 15 – 17, 2024). Principal Guest Conductor Nathalie Stutzmann will channel her celebrated career as a contralto as she leads performances of Mozart’s Requiem (April 26 – 28, 2024). And the season will conclude with a theatrically inspired production of Puccini’s beloved opera La bohème, led by Nézet-Séguin (June 7 and 9, 2024). In addition, the Orchestra will welcome some of the biggest stars of classical music, including John Williams, Audra McDonald, Gil Shaham, Hélène Grimaud, and more, in performances featuring beloved works.

Other highlights include the return of the film series; Family Concerts; the 4th season of the Our City, Your Orchestra digital series – collaborations within the diverse communities of Philadelphia – and the HearTOGETHER podcast, featuring artists and activists who discuss music, social justice, and the lived experiences that inform the drive to create a more equitable and inclusive future for the arts.
