Relaxed Performance

Monday 30 December at 5pm

All tickets just £12.25!†

Relaxed performances are primarily designed for patrons who may be concerned about attending a theatrical performance and may find visiting the theatre daunting. They are informal performances that are designed to benefit patrons with additional needs, such as autism, ADHD, dementia, young children or anyone who would benefit from a more relaxed environment.

Slight alterations are made to the performance though the overall content will not change:

- Technical adjustments are made to lighting and sound (house lights are normally left on low and strobe lighting may be removed. Loud noises or explosions are either taken out entirely or reduced).
- Audience members are free to go in and out as needed and late comers rules will be relaxed.
- Making noise during the performance will not be discouraged.
- Additional staff members are on hand to assist as required, and quiet areas are provided for anyone who may become overwhelmed by the performance.

In addition to supporting your visit:

- Visual stories can be sent to all bookers in advance, with detailed information and photos of both the theatre and the show.
- Pre show familiarisation visits can be arranged.
- A creative learning offer is available to add value to group and school visits.
