

1 City //
5 Ways

Miami

There's more than one way to discover a destination. By Saxon Henry

Turf Warrior

In Miami, there's action aplenty for the gourmet who feels it's not a meal without surf and turf, and for those who favor exertion over inertia.

Home Body

Design devotees and art collectors have become just as spoiled as fashionistas, thanks to the Miami Design District and Wynwood.

Oenophile

Miami is a city known for its club set and maverick mixologists, but there's a sophisticated side that brings wine lovers together.

Fashionista

Shoppportunists have no shortage of eye candy in the hot-ticket boutiques and high-style shopping centers that proliferate under the tropical sun.

Celebrity Seeker

Miami's celebrity epicenter is South Beach, where famous faces flash in the crowd and paparazzi roam the streets for coveted sightings. When they do stray, the stars don't go far.

1

Celebrity Seeker

WHERE TO STAY // Fontainebleau

When celebrities salute themselves, they flock to the Fontainebleau. Jennifer Lopez recently unveiled her alter ego, Lola, when she debuted her music video for her single "Fresh Out the Oven" at the hotel's nightclub. fontainebleau.com

MORNING // Plunge

The Beatles once swam in the waters off South Beach, and the area still draws its share of personalities. Catch a bird's-eye view at Plunge, the rooftop bar at the Gansevoort South. gansevoortsouth.com

2

Oenophile

WHERE TO STAY // Four Seasons Hotel Miami

The Acqua restaurant at the Four Seasons has more than 200 labels on its award-winning wine list. fourseasons.com

The Four Seasons' sumptuous setting holds a phenomenal art collection, including buxom Botero sculptures.

MORNING // The Spa at Icon Brickell

The treatment rooms in this Miami newcomer open onto the dramatic 5,000-square-foot Water Lounge designed by Philippe Starck. Head to Eos on the 15th floor for a cocktail by mixologist Freddy Diaz. iconbrickell.com

3

Turf Warrior

WHERE TO STAY // The Betsy

There's no better turf than Ocean Drive in South Beach on which to toast the good life, and this hotel offers digs and dishes for the virile visitor, with an outpost of BLT Steak. thebetsyhotel.com

MORNING //

For a turf of a greener variety, hit the links at the Arthur Hills-designed Miami Beach golf course. miamibeachgolfclub.com

BRUNCH // Meat Market

Sunday brunch at this Lincoln Road spot is not for the light-of-appetite. Dine outside for people-watching or soak in the clubby vibe inside. meatmarketmiami.com

4

Fashionista

WHERE TO STAY // One Bal Harbour Resort & Spa

Check into this sleek sanctuary in Bal Harbour and languish on the beach with cocktail in hand. oneluxuryhotels.com

MORNING // Bal Harbour Shops

World-class shopping awaits in an al fresco atmosphere, where everything from Lanvin to Neiman Marcus and Gucci sits under one open-air roof. balharbourshops.com

LUNCH // Maitardi

Graziano Sbroggio's menu at this Miami Design District restaurant ranges from gourmet pizzas and Italian beef carpaccio tapas to terrific pastas. maitardimiami.com

5

Home Body

WHERE TO STAY // Viceroy Miami

In these chic surroundings created by designer Kelly Wearstler, you'll expand your style consciousness just by checking in. viceroymiami.com

LUNCH // SRA. Martinez

The tapas menu at chef Michelle Bernstein's newest restaurant is designed to encourage an exploration of flavors. The Latin-inspired choices are grouped by cool and hot, and the portions are just right. chefmichellebernstein.com/sra-m

DINNER // Mr. Chow

This W South Beach restaurant is truly a see-and-be-seen spot. Try the crispy Peking duck after snagging a table between celebs such as Drew Barrymore and Jamie Foxx. mrchow.com

AFTERNOON // Lincoln Road

The shops and restaurants along Lincoln Road draw Tyra Banks, who buys makeup at Brownes & Co., and Jay-Z and Beyoncé, who chow-down at Quattro. Former fashion model Sara Colombo's shop, Nest, is a celeb haunt. nestcasa.com

Find one-of-a-kind European imports for your home at Nest.

LATE NIGHT // Wall

The W's seductive ultralounge, Wall, attracts an eclectic "in" crowd that includes Adrian Grenier, Josh Groban and Todd English. Park yourself on a Cappellini stool at the lacquered bar, then kick up your heels. wallmiami.com

AFTERNOON // Kaspia

Sip champagne and vodka and nibble on caviar served on baked potatoes in the first U.S. outpost of the famed Parisian restaurant. kaspiamiami.com

LUNCH // Eno's

The Enomatic wine-dispensing system at this Lincoln Road bar and restaurant doles out wine by the ounce, and the choices are many and varied. Wine-tasting courses are also on tap for enquiring minds. enos-sobe.com

DINNER // Fratelli Lyon

General manager and sommelier Aniece Meinhold conducts Wednesday-night wine workshops here, featuring a flight of wines and a selection of nibbles. fratellilyon.com

DINNER // Gotham Steak

This sibling of NYC's Gotham Bar and Grill brings chef Alfred Portale's talents to the refurbished Fontainebleau. The menu is filled with dishes such as Colorado rack of lamb and 50-day aged New York strip.

LATE NIGHT // LIV

DJs such as Tiesto, Chachi and Mitch LJ perform in the 18,000-square-foot Fontainebleau nightclub with its six private sky boxes (the floor feels much smaller when it's packed). livnightclub.com

AFTERNOON // Aquavana

Part of the Wellness Spa at Canyon Ranch Hotel & Spa, Miami Beach, Aquavana has a crystal steam room, foot spa and thermal heated loungers. Design your own soda at the Canyon Ranch Grill while enjoying views of the Atlantic from the terrace. canyonranch.com

DINNER // La Marea at The Tides South Beach

Chef Gonzalo Rivera Jr.'s creations at La Marea are artful and varied. Among the offerings are yellow tail snapper and hamachi salad. thetidessouthbeach.com

AFTERNOON // Miami Design District

There's plenty of fashion to be had here, too. The newest addition to the scene is a wildly chic Christian Louboutin shoe boutique with a façade of live orchids. miamidesigndistrict.net

Find Marni in the Miami Design District, along with En Avance, Y-3 and Tomas Maier.

LATE NIGHT // Louis Bar Lounge

Portraits of the French king lining the walls seem to channel the monarch's dark side as his eyes follow you to the dance floor, where it's the DJ that holds court at this club in the Gansevoort South. louismiami.com

LATE NIGHT // The Florida Room at the Delano

Opulent interiors by Lenny Kravitz, with mirrored ceilings, Swarovski chandeliers and a Lucite grand piano. delano-hotel.com

AFTERNOON // Art Galleries

The Miami Design District and Wynwood are dotted with galleries: Wolfgang Roth & Partners Fine Art, Spinello Gallery and 101/exhibit in the District—and Charest-Weinberg Gallery and Chelsea Galleria in Wynwood—are just a few destinations known for their cutting-edge collections.

Get addresses and details of the items noted here at deltaskymag.com