PRODUCT HUNT

#1 Product of the Day

This probably sounds familiar...

- You start your day with 100+ unread emails
- Your social media accounts haven't been updated in weeks
- That blog post you planned to write is still just a title
- Customer outreach keeps getting pushed to "next week"
- You're wearing too many hats: CEO, marketer, salesperson, accountant, and customer service rep all in one

The traditional solution? Hire freelancers/agencies. But that comes with:

- High costs: Average agencies costs can run $60,000-$100,000+
- More time spent directing others instead of growing your business
- Inconsistent availability: Freelancers juggle multiple clients
- Training requirements: Constant investment in bringing people up to speed

This is precisely why AI employees have captured everyone's attention.

Let's now see how they can help you scaling your business

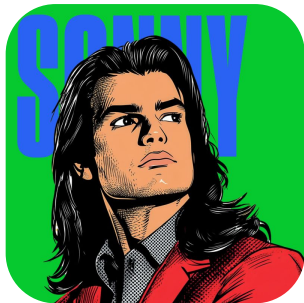

Meet Eva: Your Executive Assistant

“I manage your inbox, meetings, and calendar, so you can focus on what actually matters—like being the best of your industry.”

- ★ Draft emails with your tone and style so you just have to click send!
- ★ Manages your inbox and filters what matters
- ★ Takes notes during your online meetings
- ★ Schedules and organizes meetings for you
- ★ Handles follow-ups and reminders
