

Academic year 2022-23: 19 new professors join the emlyon business school faculty

At the start of this new academic year, emlyon business school's faculty has been enhanced by the arrival of 19 new professors, representing 15 nationalities.

They will contribute to strengthening the academic excellence of the School, ranked second in France in the management category of the 2022 Shanghai ranking.

Consumer acculturation, sustainability, behavioral economics, the digital platform ecosystem, Artificial Intelligence-based decision making, the ethical implications of performance measurement... Their research work focuses on a wide range of resolutely contemporary issues. They embody emlyon's commitment to train its students to become responsible managers by providing them with the necessary points of reference and tools to understand and address current and future challenges.

For Tessa Melkonian, Dean for Faculty and Research at emlyon, "The arrival of these 19 new professors confirms the development of our faculty in line with our ambition to make emlyon a genuine global business university. Their diverse disciplines and approaches will enable them to contribute to our fundamental objective of producing knowledge, sharing it, and disseminating it widely, in order to respond to the economic, social, digital, and ecological challenges organizations are facing today."
