

HelloFresh AU Internship - 6 months (or 12 months)

Sydney - Mid-July (Berlin)

This is a unique 6 or 12 months programme that allows you (not mandatory) do 2 six-months internships, 1 in Sydney and 1 in Berlin in our headquarters.

About HelloFresh

We are the leading global company in the expanding online recipe kit delivery market. This is a unique opportunity to gain valuable and challenging experience at a rapidly growing startup. Responsibility is given from day one to use your initiative and creativity to help us grow our business. We are fast-paced and love the food world. Learn more about us at hellofresh.com.au.

If you would like to join an energetic and highly motivated team and work in a dynamic, high-energy, high-growth field where you can really have an impact and make a difference every single day then join us and become part of developing a global fresh food champion!

Job description

You will

- Be part of the Growth Marketing team, responsible for growing HelloFresh as fast and sustainably as possible
- Understand the business pain and proactively address them via internal tool creation to increase the team's productivity to contribute to our growth
- Work closely with several teams that may be involved in the tools you create
- Drive digital tool development, from idea generation, creation to execution
- Manage the access and storage of data for marketing analytics
- Have opportunities for future internships in our global offices in Opstech (Berlin, NYC, London)

Mandatory Requirements

You have

- Full stack web development skills: SQL, Python (Django, Flask), JavaScript (jQuery, Vue), HTML
- A willingness to learn languages that you do not know
- Strong organisation and Project Management skills
- The will to make products alive and the capacity to work autonomously
- Attention to detail and a proven ability to manage multiple projects and deadlines
- Great communication and popularizing skills (written and spoken)

You are

- Passionate about DevOps and driving your own projects
- Willing to learn on the job, be dynamic, a self-starter and someone who thinks outside the box
- Proactive, ambitious, and assertive: you take ownership of your work and think beyond the scope of a given assignment
- Ready to join a high-demand/high-exposure position
- Passionate about HelloFresh and want to be part of an extremely fast-paced business

Send your CV to: matthieu.ode@hellofresh.com.au & pauline@hellofresh.com.au

Compensation: 39,400 AUD per annum and company benefits

Start Date: mid-July 2019