

Noah's Floating Zoo

Copyright © 2025 by Sales Online Solutions, LLC

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means—electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise—without prior written permission from the publisher, except for brief quotations in reviews.

First Edition, 2025

Published by SOS Publishing, Pleaanton, TX 78064
a division of Sales Onlne Solutions, LLC

Printed in USA

ISBN: TBA

Written by Billy Colbert

Illustrated by Canva and assisted by AI

Scripture references are adapted from the Bible (Genesis 6-9).

This book is a work of fiction inspired by biblical events.
Names, characters, and incidents are used creatively for storytelling purposes.

For more information, contact:

support@salesonlinesolutions.com

[Your Website or Publisher's Website, YouTube channel for video version of this and other children's stories @ YTchannel

Pages Of Wonder

Once upon a time, in a world full of wiggle and giggle, there lived a kind man named Noah. God gave Noah a big job: “Build a giant boat, my friend! Rain’s coming, and we’re going on an adventure!” So, Noah grabbed his hammer—bang, bang, bang!—and built a wobbly, wiggly ark as tall as a tree and as wide as a meadow.

Next, God said, “Gather two of every animal—big ones, small ones, sneaky ones, all ones!”

Noah scratched his beard. “Oh my, that’s a zoo!” And off he went, calling animals from every corner of the world.

First came the wobbly giraffes, stretching their long necks to peek over treetops. “Oops!” said one, bumping the ark with its head. “In you go!” Noah chuckled, nudging them inside. Then slithered the sneaky snakes, hissing, “Ssssneaky spotsss for usss!” They coiled around the railings, tickling Noah’s toes.

Chatter-chatter-chatter!” went the monkeys, swinging from ropes and stealing Noah’s hat. “Two of you, please!” Noah said, tossing bananas to calm them down. The elephants tromped in—thump, thump!—their trunks waving like floppy flags. “Careful, big friends!” Noah called as the ark rocked side to side

The penguins waddled up, flippers flapping. “We love a boat party!” they squawked, sliding down the ramp. Tiny mice scurried behind, squeaking, “Wait for us!” Noah scooped them up—two by two—and plopped them aboard. Soon, the ark was a noisy, bouncy zoo—moos, roars, and ribbits filling the air!

Then, the sky turned gray. Drip, drop, splash! Rain fell like a giant sprinkler. Noah peeked out. “God’s got this,” he whispered, trusting his big plan. The ark floated high, rocking like a cradle. Inside, the animals played—lions napped, monkeys danced, and giraffes peeked out windows.

For days and days, it rained—pitter-patter, pitter-patter! The snakes played hide-and-seek, the penguins splashed in puddles, and Noah sang silly songs to keep everyone happy. “God’s keeping us safe!” he’d say, patting a sleepy elephant.

Finally, the rain stopped. The sun winked through the clouds, and—whoosh!—a rainbow stretched across the sky, sparkling red, blue, and gold. “Wow!” gasped the animals, crowding the deck. Noah smiled big. “God’s promise—a fresh start for us all!”

The ark landed with a thud. Out hopped the monkeys, out waddled the penguins, out stretched the giraffes—two by two, off to explore. Noah waved goodbye, his heart full of trust. “What a wild ride!” he laughed, tipping his hat to the rainbow.

And that night, as the stars
twinkled, Noah's floating zoo
became a story—a tale of faith,
fun, and furry friends, just for you.

The Real Story from the Bible

A long time ago, the world was filled with people who had forgotten to be kind and good. But there was one man named Noah who still listened to God.

God asked Noah to build a big boat called an ark, and to bring two of every animal inside. When the rain came, Noah, his family, and all the animals stayed safe on the ark.

After many days, the rain stopped, and the sun came out.

Then God did something very special—He placed a beautiful rainbow in the sky.

🌈 It was God's promise that He would never flood the whole earth again.

A rainbow is a reminder of God's love, His promises, and new beginnings.

Join our book club here.

A Big Thank You from Noah's Ark!

Thank you for sailing along with Noah's Floating Zoo!

I had so much fun writing this wiggly, giggly tale, and I hope it brought you and your little ones joy.

If you loved this adventure, I'd be so grateful if you'd share a quick note on Amazon. Even a few words can help other families find this story of faith and furry friends.

It's easy—just click the book page link below to visit the review page.

Thank you, and happy reading!

Warmly,

Billy Colbert

SOS Publishing

Book Page