306: Black History – Continuing the Story™

COURSE MISSION

INFORM & INSPIRE today's students by sharing insightful stories about the Black experience in the United States; EMPOWER students through the counter-storytelling of Black perspectives across generations; ELEVATE history as a lens to understand current events; and TRANSFORM students' perception of the world around them.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Draw connections between shaping historical events, within the Civil Rights Movement in the mid-twentieth century and modern events.
- Understand the history of events that have shaped the experiences of many Black people in the United States.
- Identify notable Black figures within the business and medical sector and the impact of their accomplishments in their respective fields, and in larger society.
- Reflect on the content using themes of inequality and discrimination.

LESSON: UNTOLD STORIESDESCRIPTION

This lesson looks at the events that have shaped modern Black life in the post-Civil Rights Movement United States. This lesson seeks to enable students to make connections between the ongoing struggle for civil and human rights from the 1960s to present day. A first-person narrative is utilized to describe the ongoing civil rights struggle that did not occur within the vacuum of the 1960s and to fully realize the story has either gone untold or misrepresented in the media. Shaping events are identified throughout a time span of several decades, which tells a story from a different perspective, i.e. counter storytelling.

TOPICS

- Juneteenth
- Affirmative Action
- Civil Rights and Equality Protests and Marches
- Expanding/Limiting Factors on Civil Rights

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Identify and describe events that strengthened existing or created new civil rights for Black Americans
- Identify and describe events that challenged or limited existing civil rights for Black Americans
