

Ever since Nomura asked Fieldfisher to advise on their set up as a Licensed Deposit Taker in London in the early 1980s, Fieldfisher have championed Inward Investment from all over the world.

Fieldfisher is an international law firm of 400 lawyers providing advice to its clients through its offices and affiliates globally.

The lawyers in the Fieldfisher Inward Investment group come from every specialisation and bring a refreshing responsiveness and quality to everything they do.

Whether our client requires a small setup, a major investment, or has intellectual property, litigation, or capital market needs we thrive on these instructions.

Our work covers the following areas
