

Winner, Winner, Chicken Dinner

I found this chicken pie on Cape Cod years ago, and it's still the closest to homemade I've ever tasted. The hand-crimped crust is flaky, the filling is jam-packed with hand-pulled meat, and the people who make them are clearly doing so with love. ($69 with free shipping; centervillepies.com)

Paging Willy Wonka

I thought the Galápagos were just islands in the Pacific, but these Galapagos turtles—made with pistachios, pecans, macadamia nuts, walnuts, vanilla caramel, and dark and milk chocolate—must come straight from the Chocolate Factory! (Six-piece Galapagos holiday gift box, originally $60, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; cocoaucuvee.com)

The Bee's Knees

This velvety Hawaiian-made honey is so special that I picked two eight-ounce jars packaged in a rustic wood gift box for you to give to your honey: the organic white Kiawe, sourced from a remote forest, and the lemon version, with a tart kick. (Maui gift box, $50; rarehawaiianhoney.com)

Fruitylicious

These three seasonal preserves are the most outstanding trio since Destiny's Child. I've been enjoying the plaut with lavender and peach all year, and I'm so excited to try the strawberry with lavender. (Originally $36 for three, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; clifffamily.com)

Bird of Paradise

This turkey from Greenberg Smoked Turkey Inc. has been prepared in an old-fashioned brick smokehouse using only hickory wood, so all you have to do is slice and enjoy. No wonder it's one of my all-time Favorite Things. ($33.50 to $80; gobblegobble.com)

Raising the Bar

What do you get when two culinary geniuses come together? True chocolate bliss, courtesy of the world-class chef Thomas Keller and the renowned olive oil producer Armando Mani. This set has a pure, antioxidant-rich dark chocolate bar; a milk chocolate one; and two dark-milk chocolate blends. (K+M Extravirgin Chocolate four-pack gift box, $50; amazon.com/oprah)

The Slice Is Right

Who wouldn't be delighted to get one of these pies? The crusts are buttery, and the Kerberry filling—my favorite—has just the right amount of tart. At this price, I'd send one to all my pie-loving friends. (S'mores, classic apple, and Kerberry crumb pies in gift boxes, originally $39 to $42 each, now 20 percent off with code OPRAH; kerbersfarm.com)
